WE COME BY THE THOUSANDS

Shining, round coins of gold
were the ultimate goal of the Forty-niners
Rough, husky hordes of them trod rocky mountains
Parched, shimmering, desert sands
And stooped to grasp the gleaming nuggets
That would sustain their lives.
In '59 new thousands rush,
The sound of their coming is laughter, a hum of voices
To San Bernardino High School, high concrete halls
To search with their voices, their minds
For the precious, enlightening, everlasting knowledge.

'59ers'

TYRO

To DR. ELSIE F. GIBBS Director of Secondary Education

1959 has seen a rush for knowledge unparalleled in American history. Student-suited courses of study, bigger schools, shining equipment, and fresh textbooks are major tools in the administration of this rush.

It is fitting and proper that the dedication of the '59ers' TYRO be to one who has devoted her life to bringing these tools to the San Bernardino City Schools.

Since her arrival in 1930, Doctor Elsie Gibbs has been a key figure in the valley's development of education.

For seven years she taught English and journalism at San Bernardino High School before taking the post of Director of Secondary Education.

Because of the relatively small size of the secondary school district, Doctor Gibbs took charge of almost every detail, for many years doing the interviewing and hiring of teachers. Even now, although she is no longer responsible for such things, she keeps a personal contact with every teacher under her supervision.

Doctor Gibbs has worked tirelessly on state-sponsored committees to better, not only the schools of San Bernardino, but schools in the entire state.

In recent years Doctor Gibbs has largely been responsible for the initiation of the driver's education program, the Vocational Shops program, the Retarded Children program and the More Capable Learners (MCL) program of the city schools.

Now, after twenty-eight years of meeting challengers and rendering service, Doctor Gibbs is retiring from her position to teach at the University of Redlands.

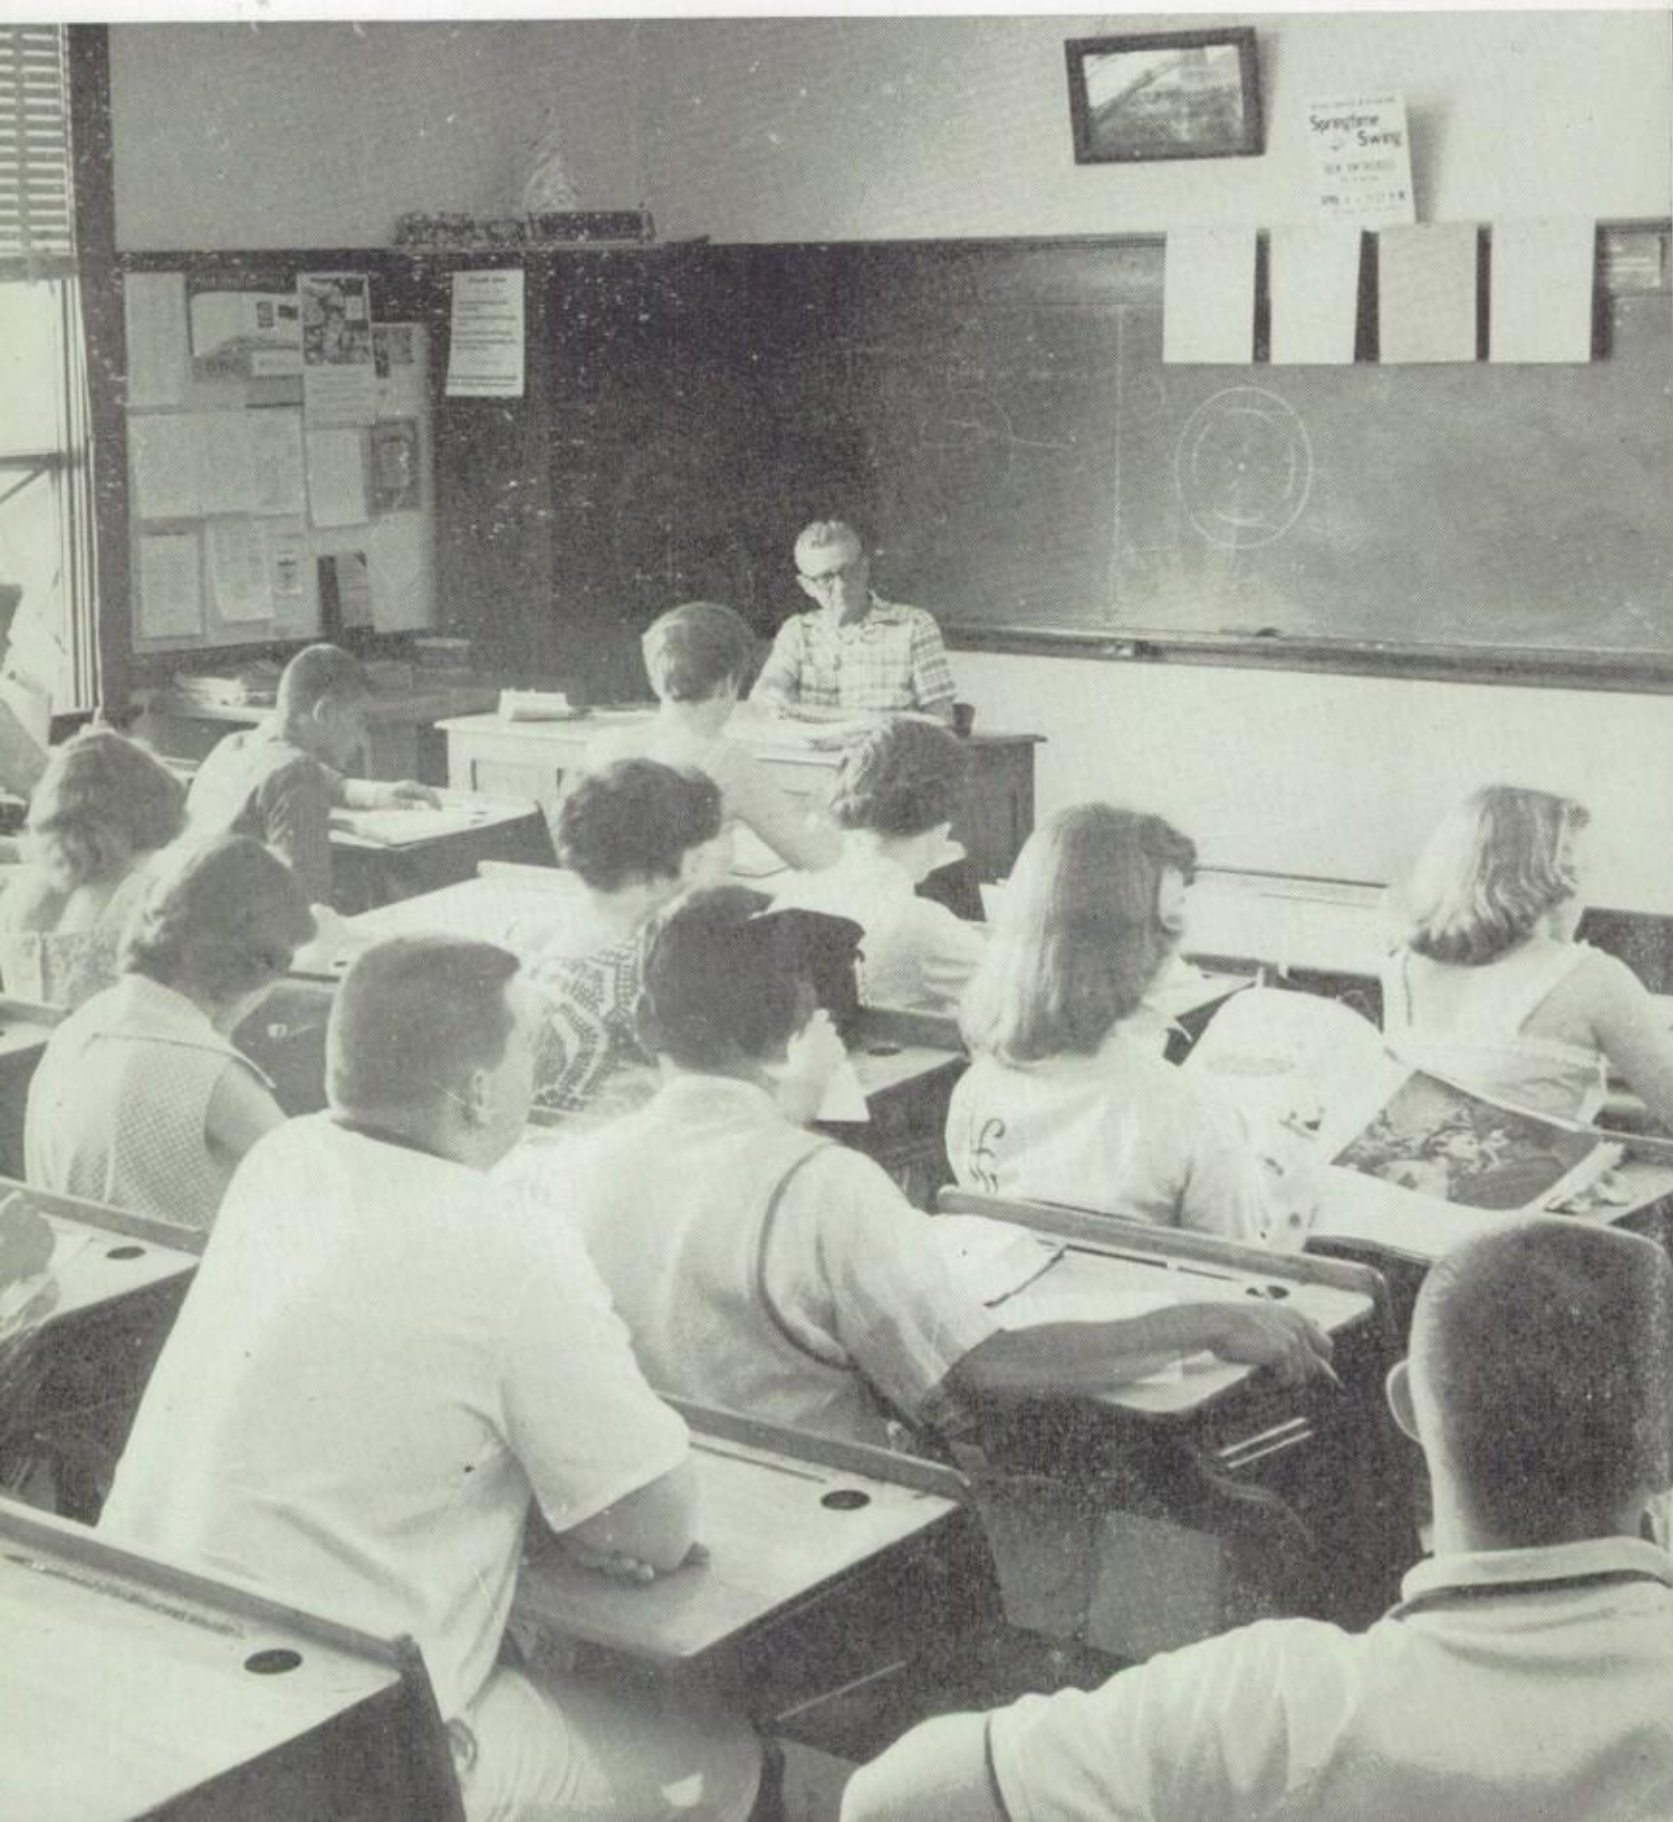

In humble appreciation for all that she has done for San Bernardino High School, we dedicate the '59ers' TYRO to Dr. Elsie F. Gibbs.

ACADEMIC LIFE

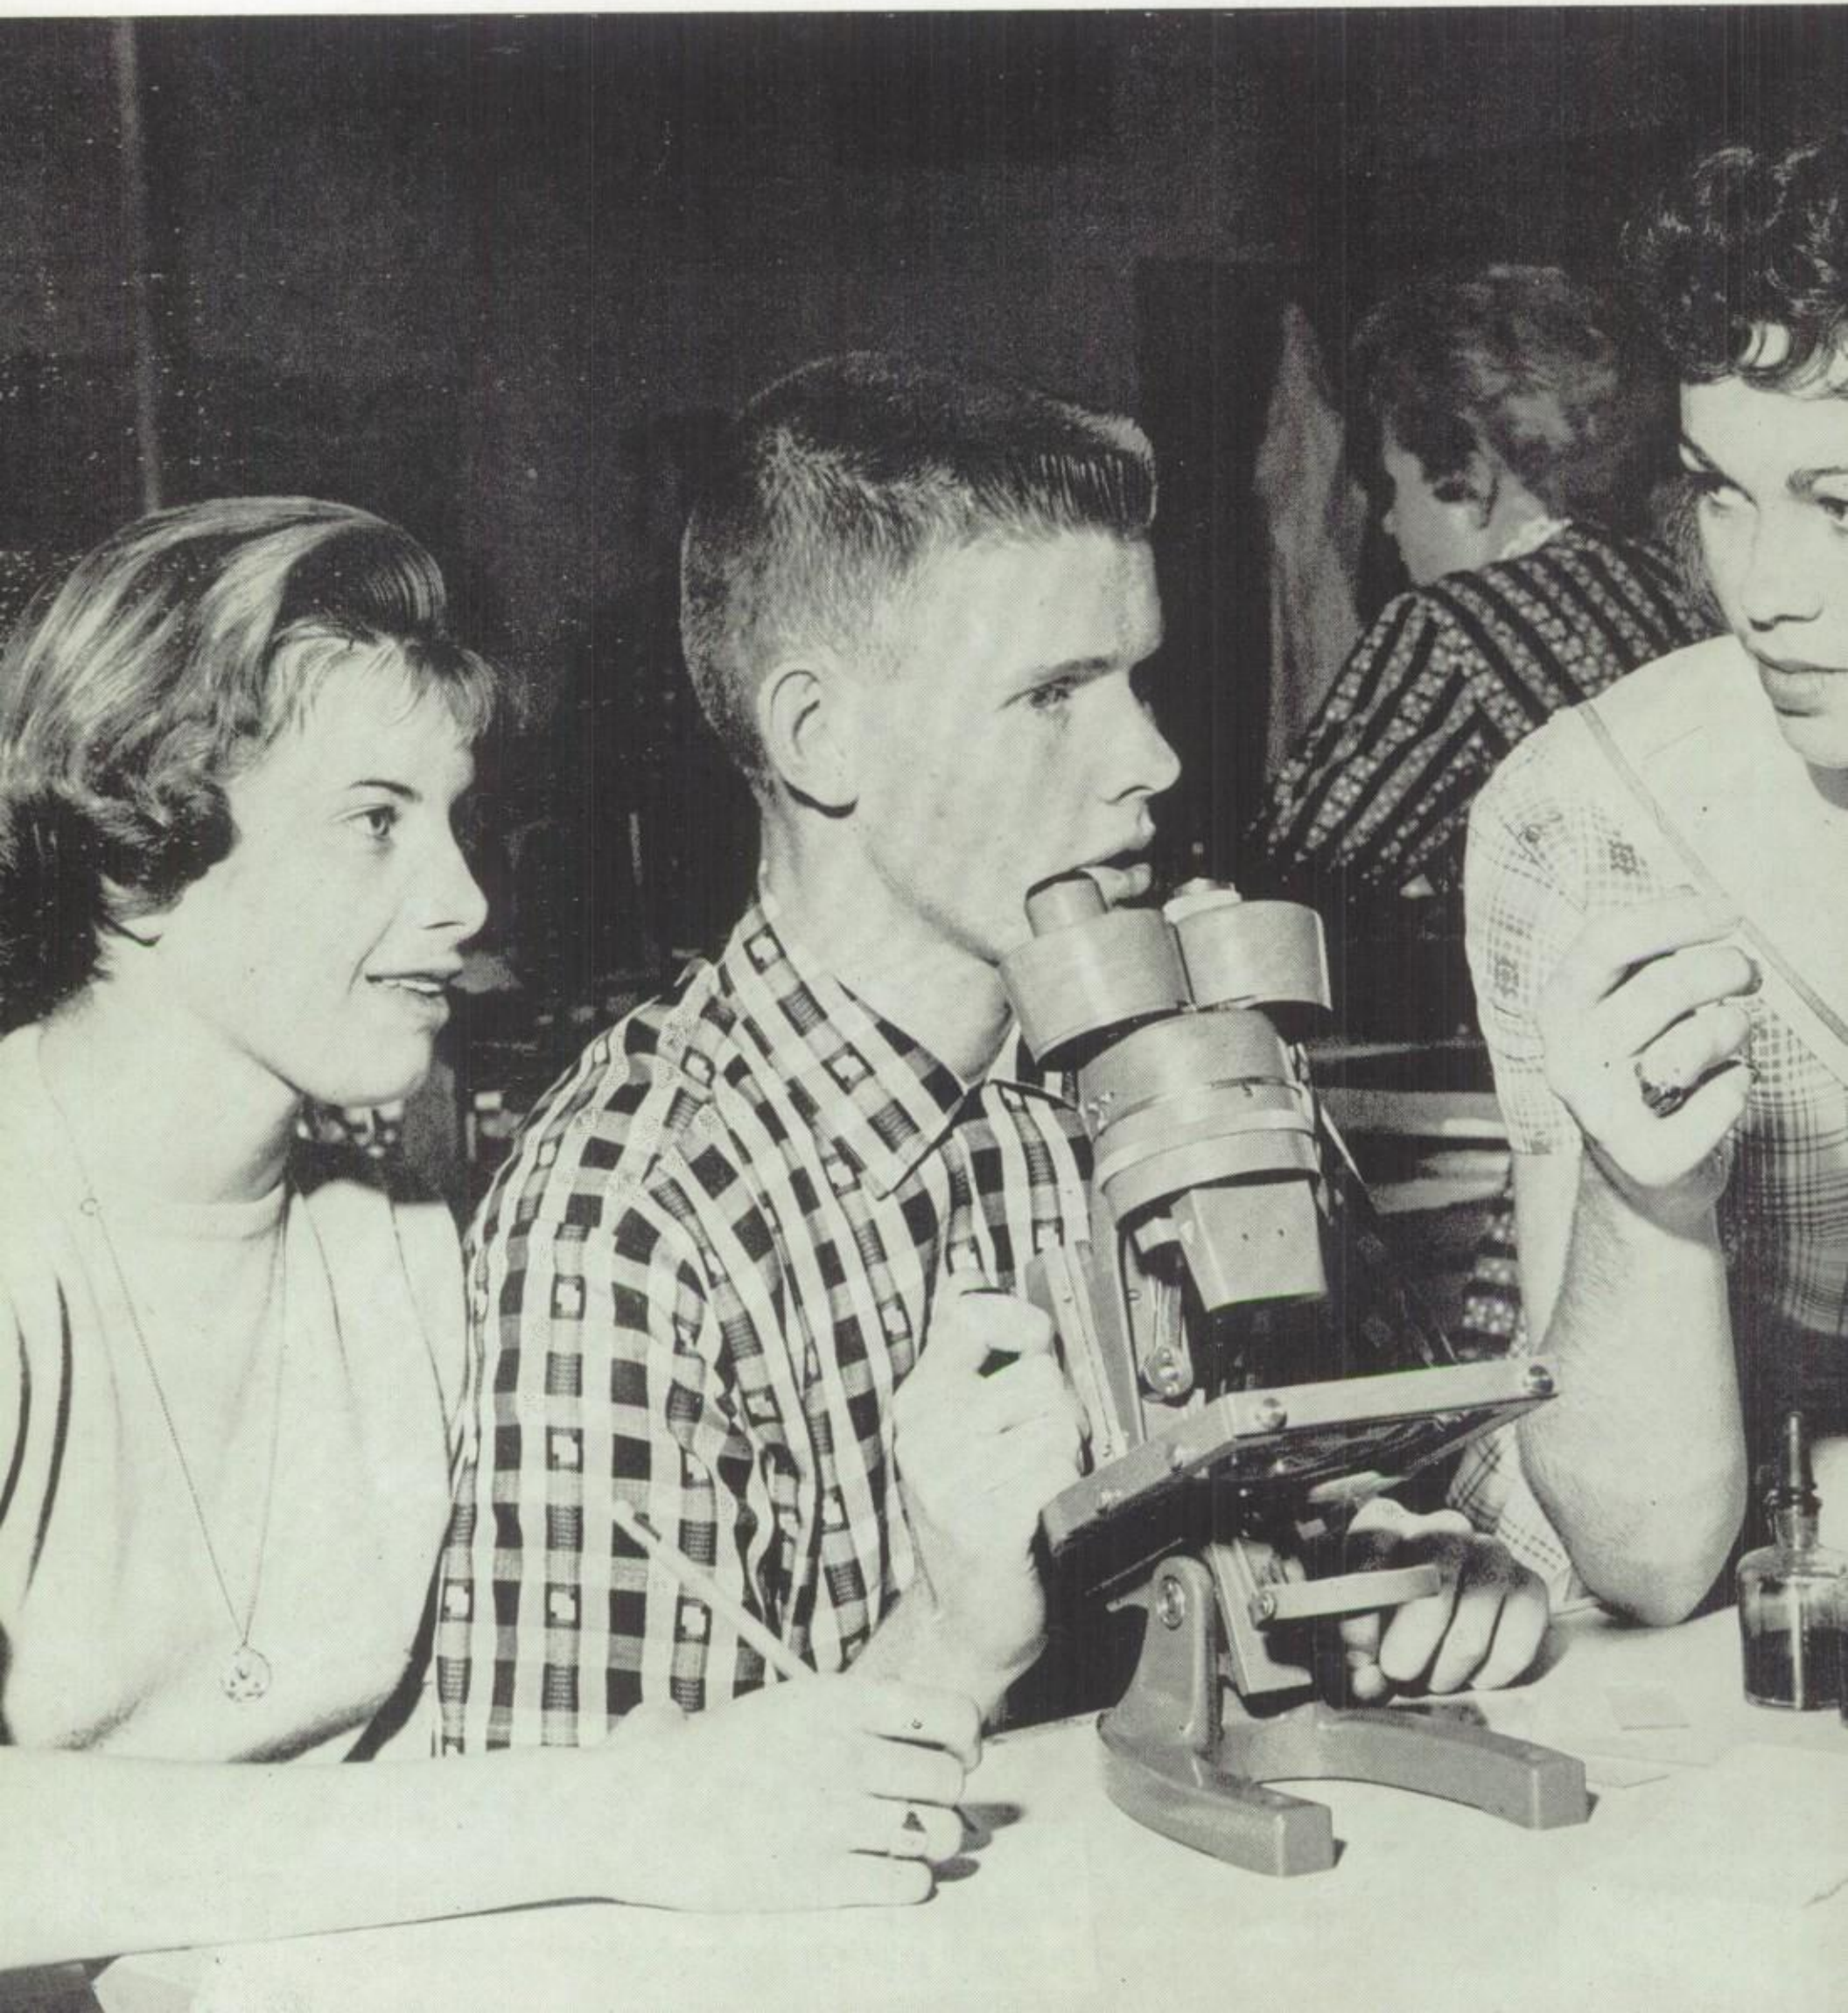

Flashing, flitting before us and then gone,
Knowledge gives us fever. We search on.
We grind through books and toil through lessons,
And pinpoint gleams of knowledge one by one.

THE GLEAM OF KNOWLEDGE

Laboratory Biology probes nature's secrets

Two eyes are better than one for exploring life among the bacteria. Suzy Sears has captured the interest of Brenda Lyons and David Hunter with her explanation of the binocular microscope.

Revealing the infinite mysteries of life.

Textbooks come to life in SBHS's Lab Biology classes where each student has his own equipment and performs his own experiments.

Lab Biology, a class covering the fundamental biological and physiological human principles, has proven to be very popular among the juniors and seniors of Card City. Many hours of tedious labor were devoted to detailed research projects, destined to comprise nearly all of SBHS's entries in the Inland Science Fair.

The combination lab and classroom contained more experimental animals, especially white rats, than it did students; and to many outsiders it appeared to be a miniature zoo. But for some strange reason only a few of the animals lived for more than one or two months, maybe because of all those organic experiments that the budding scientists liked to perform. The "guinea pigs" were injected with samples of everything including cancer; one student even converted two once independent rats into a siamese pair.

The pupils who were willing to devote their time to the research required by this course experienced an irreplaceable feeling of independence and satisfaction.

How to inject a rat is demonstrated to Roberta Neuman by Biology teacher Paul Ash. Animals were inoculated with everything from cancer to measles by inquisitive young scientists.

"Two hundred and six bones in the human body!" announces Biology instructor Charles Wagner as he introduces "Blanche," silent observer in the lab.

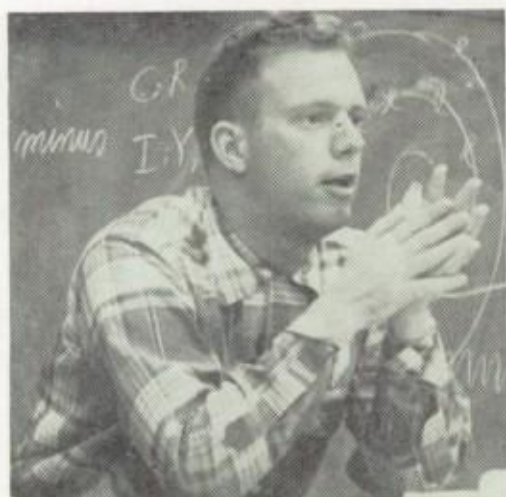

Rolling off a "log" to one of his algebra classes is math instructor Don Tierney. Using slide rules, students can perform difficult and time-consuming calculations in seconds.

The "59" frontier demands new pioneers

With today's fierce race for knowledge among the great world powers, much importance has been directed toward the math-science field. SBHS is not lagging in this accelerated program, having many technical courses which are designed to develop math-science ability: advanced algebra, a course which takes up where first year algebra left off and continues further to lay the foundation necessary for success in higher mathematics; chemistry, a laboratory study of chemical phenomena, including qualitative and quantitative analysis; photography, a series of studies devoted to high speed photographs of chemical reactions; physics, a class which probes deeply into the parts of our everyday physical world; and trigonometry, the study of problems dealing with the science of navigation and with the task of preparing students for college math such as calculus.

"That's how it is, class." Mr. Kalar explains the difficult atomic theory to his physics class.

Bob McKenzie and David Olsen are completely occupied with trying to complete the linear expansion experiment for physics.

Trig students John Reuss and Bill Nelson learned to survey. "Over there!" cries Nelson. "Gorgeous!" exclaims Reuss.

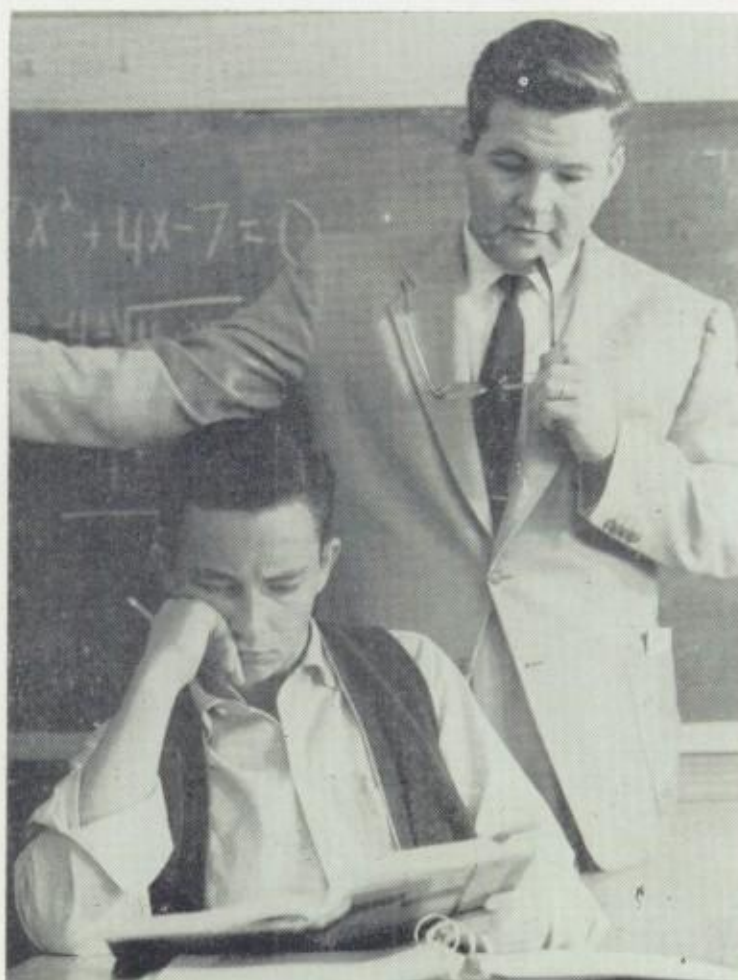

Combining biology and photography in the study of insect life is Don Starke. He produced images 30 times natural size.

with their eyes on the decimals

Junior Linda Meddock, no "cookbook chemist," observes her brew carefully to see what's going on.

Senior Terry Williams looks downright puzzled in his study of the quadratic formula. Mr. Ehlers is eagerly awaiting Terry's plea for help.

Superior reading in

Yes, it's a Shadowscope, one of those awful machines that force you to read so fast.

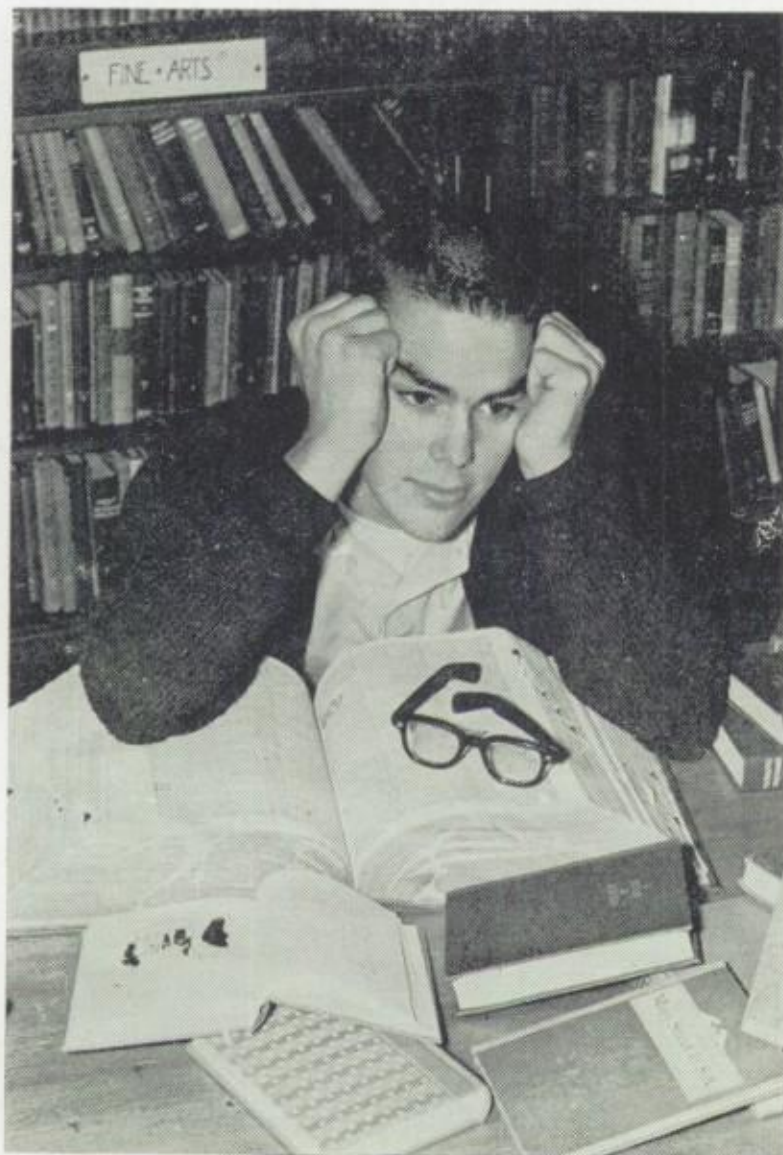

College-bound English students accelerated their reading and comprehension.

"59" requires efficient use of knowledge

A large vocabulary and the ability to "skim" are valuable assets to the college-bound student. For the first time at Card City, English classes had the opportunity to gain these skills when a speed reading program of about sixteen hours replaced part of the regular grammar and literature curriculum. Film essays forced students to read at least 500 words per minute. Comprehension tests required concentration. Vocabulary tests challenged even the "learned." Shadowsopes, focusing attention on books from Kon-Tiki to Auntie Mame, were used for reading practice.

Classic instruction of English is far from neglected at SBHS. Not only nouns, verbs, and adjectives abound in grammar lessons, but also elliptical clauses, dangling modifiers, and subordinate conjunctions. Two years of English study at Card City are required for graduation; optional Senior English is taken by over 70% of the seniors. Varying literature programs in sophomore and juniors years give way to a coverage of British writing from Beowulf, a viking fable, through Macbeth, a Shakespearean tragedy, to modern works.

"Books, books, and more books!" Ed Eby looks puzzled as he ponders over term paper possibilities, requiring extensive library research.

English instructor John Regalado plays projectionist for one of his speed reading classes. He seems to be interested in the course himself.

With the tape recorders, language students were able to analyze their speaking and comprehending abilities. Trying to understand a Latin tape are Harry Louder, Lani Goodwin, and Linda Meddock.

Language students learn that there's more

Inspired by their knowledge of the Roman Empire, Latin students made models of famous Roman figures, scrolls, and ancient buildings. Discussing some of the projects are Jeanne Anne Young, Sharon Witkauckas, and Frances McKinley.

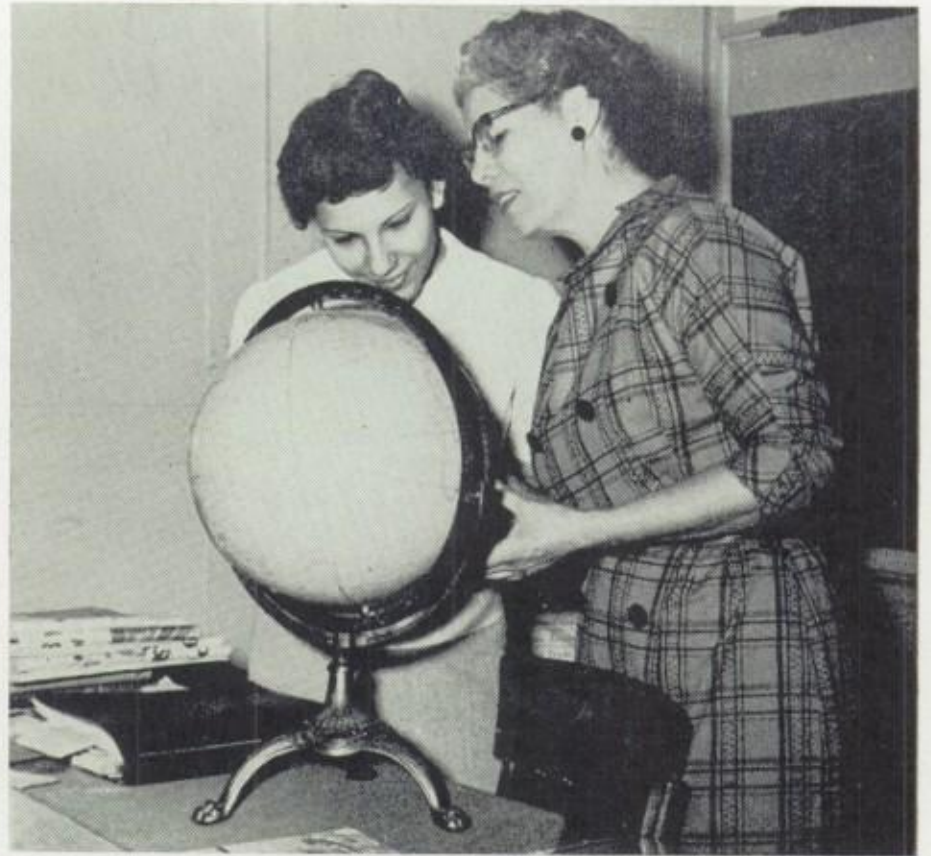

From "mama" to "democracy," the Fifty-niners have uttered millions of words in their mother tongue, scarcely turning a hair in the process, except when asked to define or enunciate them correctly.

As the Fifty-niner grows, he becomes aware of "foreign" countries. He envisions them in geography, places them in history, worries about them in current events; but only in relation to his own country.

Not until a student enters a course in speaking a foreign language does he truly recognize other nations as distinct entities sheltering human beings with the same abilities to think, speak, feel, and act that he has.

It is what separate men have done with their abilities that distinguishes one civilization from another. A language records the accomplishments of men living in close proximity to one another. We study a language (and therefore, a people) to learn what has been done, to know what needs to be done.

The history of a race is reflected in its language. Words for abstract ideas, like "democracy," increase as a society's inventions free man from grubbing for the bare necessities to thinking; language develops through hundreds of years from its primary purpose of communication to its highest, personal expression — just as the people that speak it grow from savages to artists.

Faraway places become real to Spanish students through their study of Spain's great writings. Marie Bock and Mrs. Rivera locate Sevilla on the globe.

It's a Latin banquet and an odd switch for Latin teacher Mr. Federico; he's acting as servant for Pat Berry, Sharon Basket, and Eileen Goldberg, all of whom are his students.

Two golden faces—one comedy, the other tragedy—symbolize drama at SBHS in '59. In addition to being the insignia of the National Thespian Society, the masks each stood for a play at Card City this year.

The comedy was Out of the Frying Pan, and hilarious it was, indeed. A tale of several aspiring young actors trying to make ends meet in New York, the play delighted over two thousand in two evenings of performance.

Breaking away from the light side, Rebel Without a Cause brought "hoods," gang fights, and teenage problems to the boards of the SBHS stage. The many changes of scene in Rebel made necessary a new kind of staging where the "sets" were actually large props in spotlights.

Behind the scenes an actor's suitcase lay open, exposing jars of powder—green, pink, white, gray; tubes of grease paint; glue for false moustaches; ragged garments; everyday garments; filmy garments; dummy revolvers—all clever tools used by actors to suggest the unreal.

But drama is something more than the donning of disguises. The "make-believe" people must speak and walk and gesture as real people actually do. In drama classes students learn "pitch, pause, and LOUDER, please." They learn where to walk on the stage ("blocking") and to "cover" mistakes of fellow performers. Most important, they learn to conquer mounting stage fright by carrying on the best they can.

Any applause is richly deserved, thank you.

News of the tragic chicken race in REBEL comes to the police station via telephone. Barney McClure takes down details as they are received by Tony Acosta.

Adding bushy eyebrows to Milt Winters is Ruben Villavecencio while Chet Sunde looks on. Linda Blackburn and Penny Bunce are absorbed in applying old standbys mascara and lipstick in preparation for REBEL.

Bud Mayer, portraying the frantic Plato in REBEL, is surrounded by the Inspector (Tony Acosta) and his assistants (Dan Gallardo and Sam Buchanan.)

Witty farce, tense drama

"There I was . . ." John Schwartz tells of his exploits to Meredith Waller, Joy Fisher, and Bud Mayer. Drama instructor Mr. Van Buskirk seems more interested in John's making it to play practice.

George Lewis is a picture of horror as Joyce McGurk threatens him with dire catastrophe in FRYING PAN.

Nothing surprises John Schwartz and Bud Mayer in FRYING PAN, not even eccentric cook Fred Burgess. But George Lewis flees in panic.

Results of skills and rehearsing

Key-punching, record-tallying '59ers

There's a school within a school on the San Bernardino High School campus. It consists of a building labeled "B" and some twenty teachers who have made a career out of teaching young '59ers to type, record letters, keep books, and how to behave in a modern office.

Business majors find themselves becoming specialists early in their school careers. By the time they are juniors, they find they're attending almost all of their classes in the school within the school.

Business education is generally considered vocational. Like vocational shop courses, the business student takes the minimum program required of all students. This consists of physical education, a year of science or math, two years of English, driver education, and U. S. history and government.

This course means that a business major is not admissible to a four-year college upon graduation. Still, many students leave San Bernardino High School to become business teachers. They do this by attending a junior college where they make up their college prep deficiencies before going on to a teacher training college.

What happens to those who don't continue their college? They get jobs, and good ones, too. Most of San Berdoo's recommended graduates get jobs immediately upon graduation. Some even manage to get hired before graduation.

A measure of the success of the business education program lies in the number of graduates placed. In this respect, San Bernardino's little annex is a big success.

Succulent roasts, well-knit socks, clean

If the way to a man's heart is really through his stomach, then no girl who has taken SBHS's Home-making course will ever have any male trouble. The art of fine cooking along with the responsibility of keeping a tidy kitchen is being practiced by Maria Aguilera, Florence Ousley, and Evelyn Littlefield.

Some "lucky" boy is destined to wear a pair of female crafted argyle socks; Marian Johnson knits them for a project in "Home Ec."

Jeanette Reynolds and Pat Doyle learn how to cope with children as part of the Homemaking baby care program.

Dianne Verdone strikes a thoughtful pose as she relaxes in the Capris and blouse which she made in Home Economics.

The home is the center of the universe; within its portals man finds food, clothing, and rest for his weary bones.

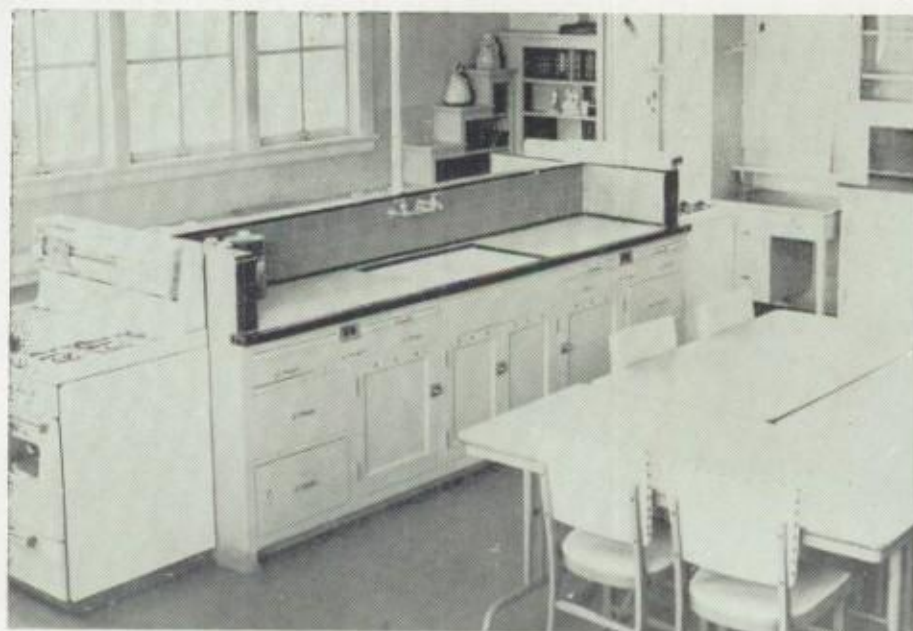

Though the purpose of the home remains the same throughout the ages, its appearance has changed somewhat radically since Fortyniners trod the earth.

The advent of compulsory education took girls from the home and placed them in institutions of learning. The maching age compensated for their increasing absence from the home front with myriad time-and-labor-saving devices to make housekeeping easier.

Now education faces a new challenge. Even as it prepares women for careers in business, it must not neglect preparing them for their fundamental careers as wives and mothers. At SBHS, instructors have seen in compulsory education an excellent opportunity to teach girls not only the basic steps in making a "house a home" that occupied so much of their ancestors' lives; but also the advantages of modern hygienic, dietetic, and mechanical discoveries for making cleaner, brighter, and happier world.

Techniques in laundering are shown as Jeannie Guernsey transfers a load of clothes to the dryer.

Stoves, sinks, pots, pans, dishes, and silverware were provided in the classroom kitchen, available to any girls interested in cooking.

Boys, with the help of tools and unlimited imaginations, produced some fine projects this year in Card City shop classes; they had a choice of enrolling in the Industrial Arts Program for beginners, or in the Vocational Arts Program for advanced workers. Regardless of the program in which the boys chose to enroll, they had at their disposal shops which were equipped for all needs.

The auto shop was filled with would-be mechanics who had desires to overhaul carburetors, reline brake drums, repair ignitions, or even rebuild engines from top to bottom. Greasy hands were inevitable, but a good washing never hurt anyone, not even a Card City auto worker.

Future engineers were situated in the mechanical drawing room where their drafting boards were always in use; students began the course by making detailed drawings of simple machinery, whereas they later tried designing cars of tomorrow.

Some boys chose the wood shop classes where they dwelt among the sawdust, sandpaper, and bent nails. Their projects ranged from corner shelves and bongo drums, to playhouses.

Printer's devils flourished in the SBHS print shop and, using some of the finest equipment available, students managed to run off about 2,000 school newspapers per week; they also worked on ticket and poster jobs for various campus organizations.

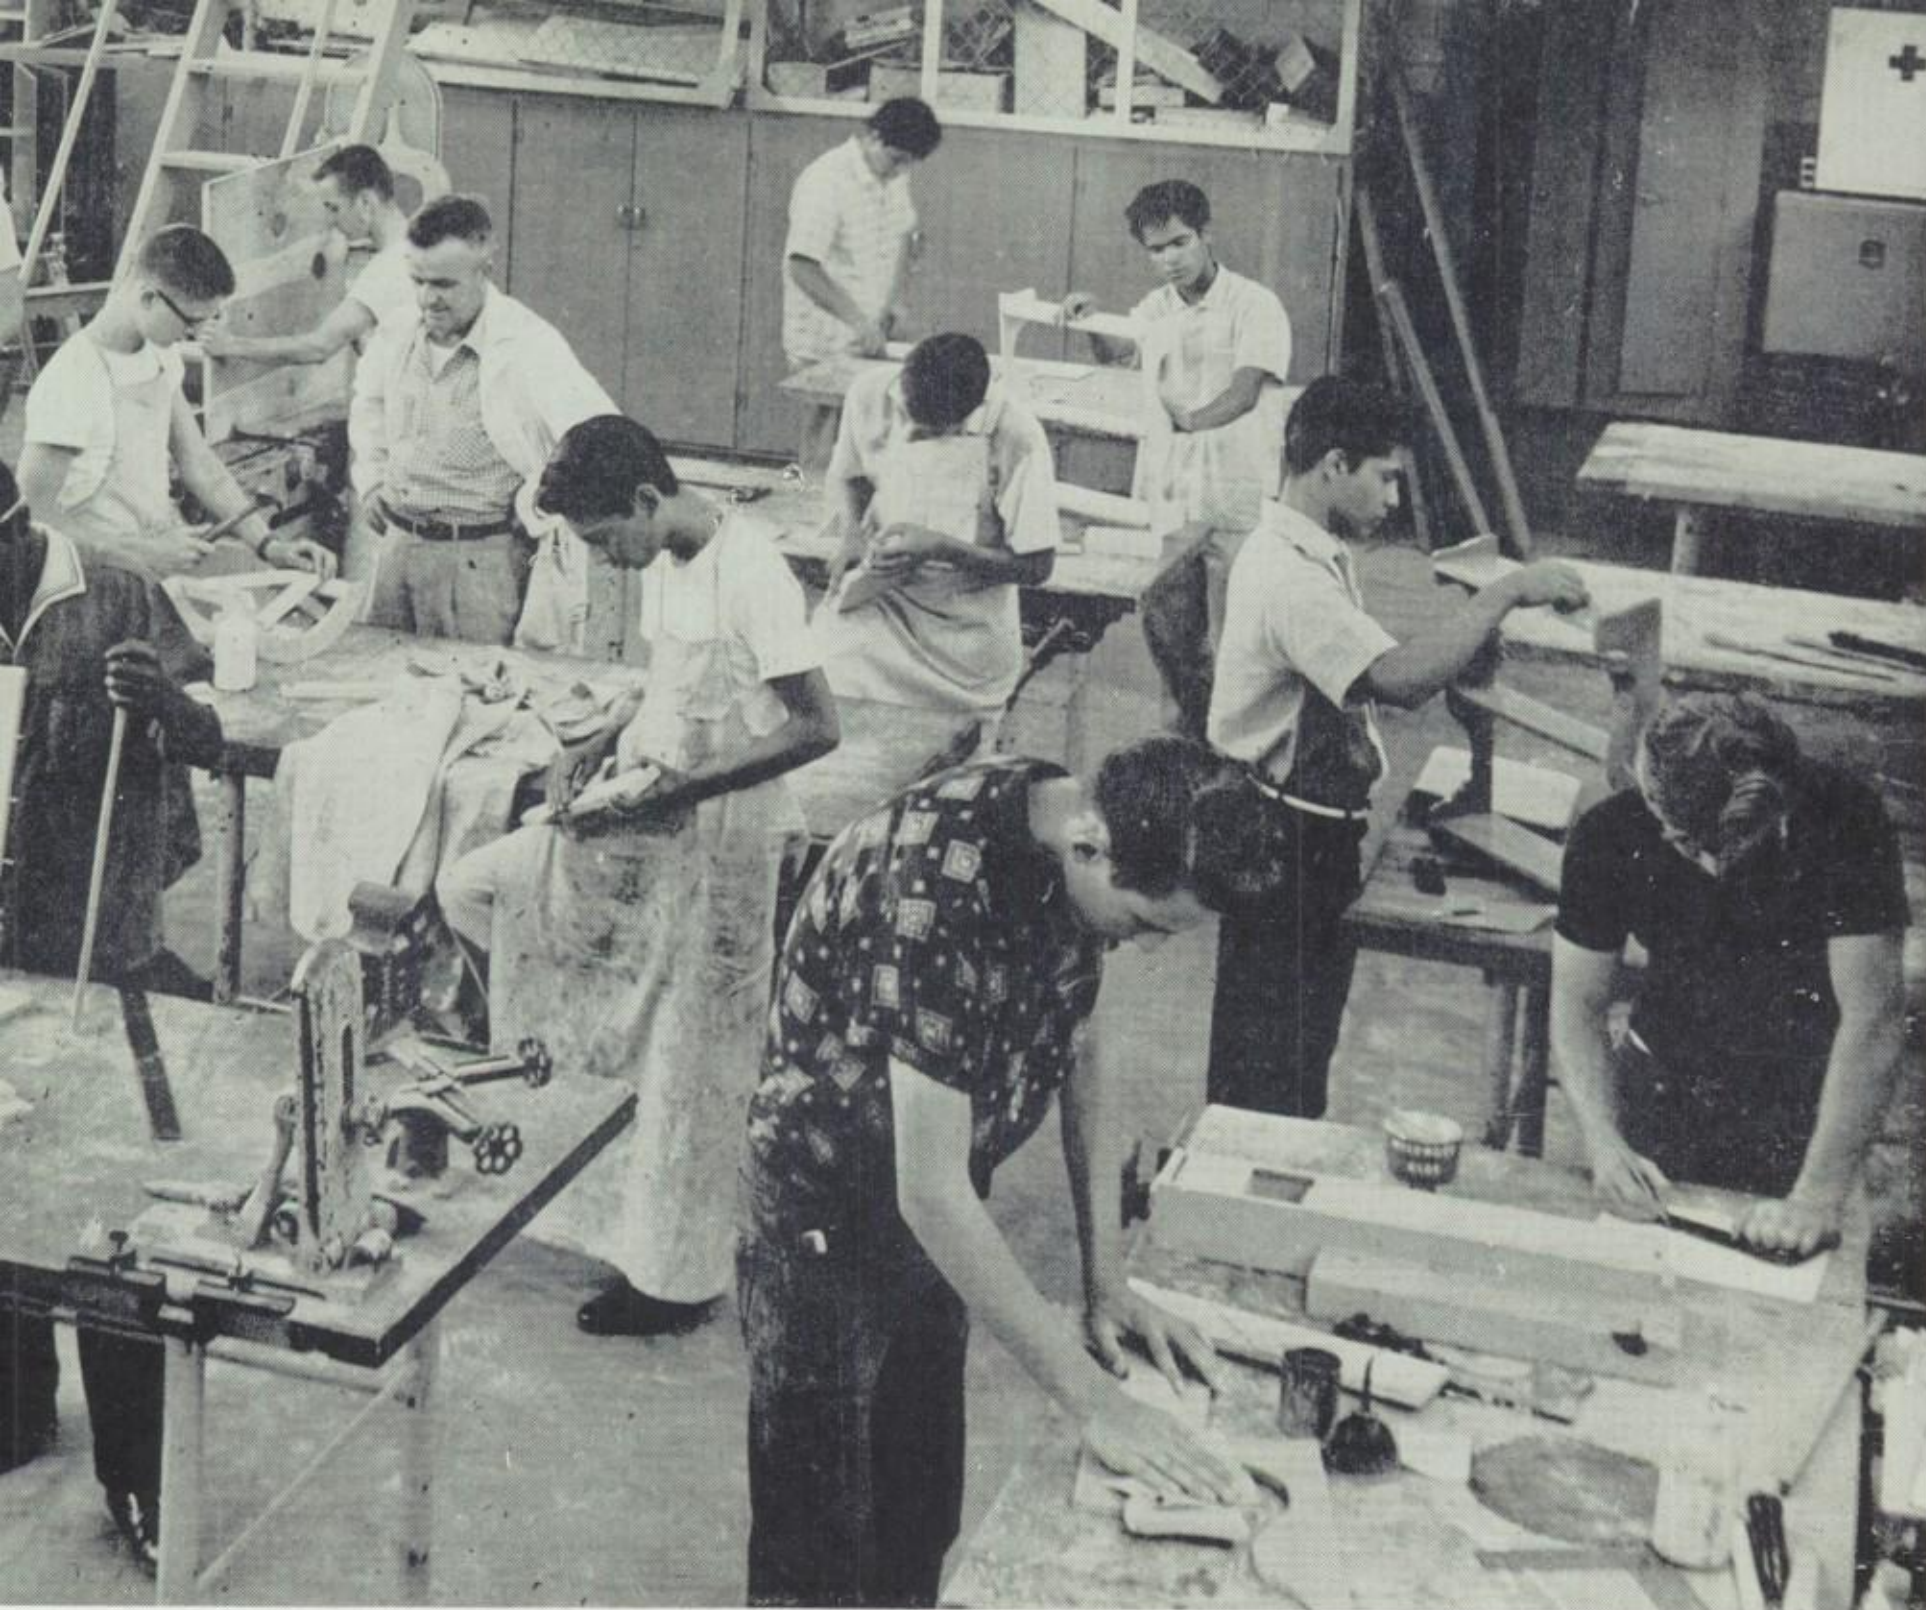

Under the supervision of Mr. Liming and with the aid of much fine equipment, SBHS printing students were able to turn out many important jobs. Here David Andersen is printing up a bundle of basketball programs.

Carpenters, auto

Everyone in this class seems to be thoroughly engrossed in his efforts to make a project worthy of an "A" grade; it's Mr. Clark's sixth period wood shop class. The students were encouraged to buy aprons; those who didn't had to be on the lookout for splattering paint.

Carving soft balsa wood, twisting brightly colored sticks into mobiles, moulding clay, splashing paints on paper, recognizing works of the old masters, and stitching gay designs on cloth, were the occupations of '59ers in various Card City art classes.

The wide variety of art work done at San Bernardino High School is representative of the way design, color, and texture are applied to varied fields of human production such as buildings, clothing, utensils, and machinery.

Talented musicians practice long hours,

Since time began, man has sought to beautify his sometimes somber world in many ways. Often he has turned to music to provide this relief from the depressing and tragic aspects of life. It is easy to forget the problems of the world when listening to Claire de Lune. This is not to say that all music is escape, for how many have been caught by the rhythm of a Spanish flamenco or a Highland fling, and wanted to throw inhibitions to the wind and join the dancers, led on and on by the exultant chords?

Through the ages music has been an inspiration to man, and through it he has learned to express a part of the beauty he sees, and share some part of it with his fellows. Through music man can express his joys, his sorrows, his fears, his desires, his dreams. "He who knows naught of the beauty of music knows naught of the beauty of life."

Brass, woodwinds, strings, and percussion blend into harmony only after painstaking effort. Not only do orchestra members practice in groups, individual perfecting is also urged. Here Mr. U'Ren's advanced orchestra rehearses a number for their annual spring concert.

"Proof" of the hard work they have been putting into the Annual is surveyed by Andy Fiala and Harry Louder.

No one knows what is in "the drawers," but everyone has fun painting them.

Frenacee Davis and Linda Koch tour classes giving TYRO sales talks along with suckers, traditional selling gambit of the yearbook.

In many ways the Annual can be compared to a scrapbook, what with paste, scissors, and mistakes. Deanne Goldie, Mike Burton, Sandra Mathews, and Donna Kolb trim the "proofs" of engraved photos to paste into their layouts.

Proper cropping of pictures is important, since many of them must be ordered "reduced" at the engraver's. Steve Batchelor figures the correct proportion and slices the photograph.

All artwork is done double size so when it's reduced it will appear flawless. Gail Kresich inks in some cartoons, hoping they will please the editor.

"Get a story on the spread of juvenile delinquency — how many 17-year-olds have been in jail?" This assignment resulted in one of the year's best articles. Rachel Alvarez, Leonard Heifitz, Millie Eskew, and Ginger Schoultz had two such assignments every week to turn into typed, finished products.

Climbing ladders was worth the risk if the desired effect could be obtained. Student photographers, led by Mr. Threatt, published over 1,000 pictures in the Weekly in '59.

Jerry Morris, Arnold Friedman, and Ray Diard gather around the "morgue," where Tyro Weeklies dating from the "twenties" and exchange papers from over one hundred schools in twenty states are filed.

Gail Curran and Martie Mullins demonstrate a personality interview. Martie reveals her opinions, prejudices and habits; and it is up to Gail to shape a truthful, informative news story from these few minutes of conversation.

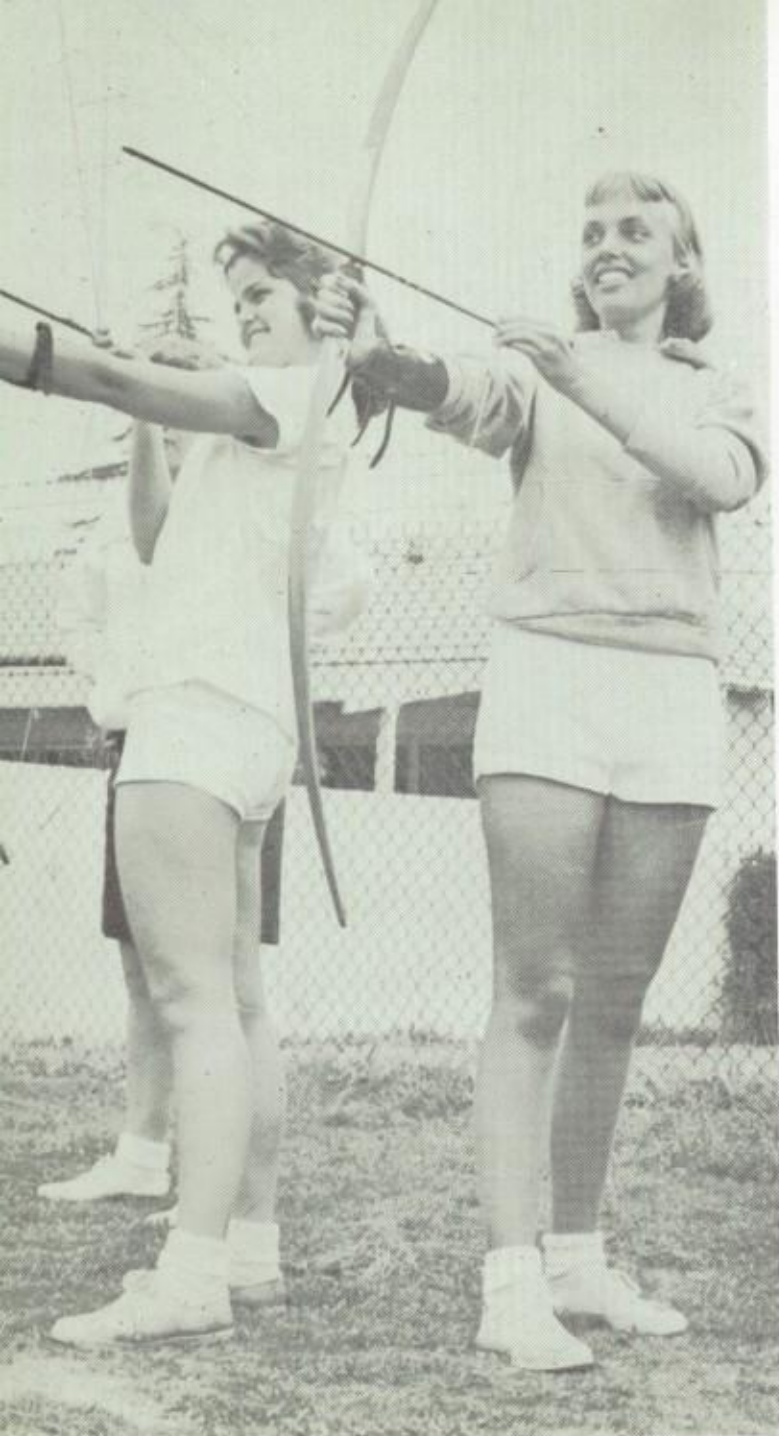

After the type is set, each column (called a "galley") is printed on a long strip of paper by itself to be checked for mistakes. Annette MacMillan and Charlotte Nolen read the "galley proofs."

Selling the paper was the easiest job of all, especially when subscription rates were twenty-five cents a year (with ASB card). Burt Leaverton punches subscriber's card while Sue Johnson hands out papers. About 1,500 copies were printed each week.

Sponsor Mr. Feldman in a spare moment, dusts trophies awarded to his pride and joy. "Tyro Weekly is generally recognized as the most outstanding high school newspaper in Southern California," says Sam.

There's more to archery than appears at first glance, Karyn Randall and Patti Pingel are learning.

Over one thousand entered the Girls' Gym daily and prepared to participate in one of the ten different sports available.

Tumbling, and modern dance produced good posture. Field hockey, basketball, and swimming resulted in stamina and endurance. Archery, tennis, and badminton developed steady nerves. Softball and volleyball demanded quick reactions.

Extra-curricular participation in sports was to be had through membership in the Girls' Athletic Association which held inter-school competition in all fields and ranked first in the CBL.

Some of the memories common to all Card Gity girls are the white, sometimes starched, "P. E." outfits; the first sniff of fresh air upon leaving the gym; the searches for stolen objects; gay GAA posters hanging from a bulletin board; runs over the hot asphalt if you had no shoes; the helping hand of Mrs. McGinnis who always had a band-aid or the key to the equipment room; the slam of the wooden "cafe" doors near the back exit; and the inner satisfaction of winning or maybe performing well.

Spirited competition between teams composed of both sexes put Cards on their toes as various P. E. classes combined for volleyball tournaments.

Glow of health brought to Fifty-niners

Sixty SBHS seniors enrolled in a full year of Modern Dance this year, and were seen leaping blithely in their sleek leotards to and from the main gym floor under the direction of Coach Barbara Neel.

Up in the air is Card junior Tom Meddock as he practices on the trampoline, a center of attraction for both boys' and girls' gym classes. Many breath-taking stunts can become simple with proper instruction and serious concentration on the part of the pupil.

Baseball, football, basketball, tumbling, swimming, archery, and volleyball made up the sports program enjoyed by boys' gym classes at SBHS. Faded trunks of assorted colors, ragged sweat shirts, dirty socks, and mutilated tennis shoes of questionable ownership were standard attire for the Card City gym gents.

Football was rough, and playful free-for-alls were not uncommon; some battered fellows even claimed that the free-for-alls weren't so playful. But there were no long-term complaints, and everyone was satisfied as long as he was given a chance to show his skill at handling the pigskin.

Basketballers found that asphalt courts didn't agree so well with sliding knees, and the first aid administrators noticed that as the basketball season progressed the Mercurochrome supply diminished. Despite the abundance of skinned knees, the boys turned out some good teams which were able to make the intramural tournaments into high class affairs.

To produce lads with skill at many sports was the objective of SBHS boys' gym courses; a glance at the students in action is proof enough of success.

Spirited participation in P.E. program

"Wait, I'll smack this one," schemes batter Jerry Winstead as Bill Lawson gets set for a wild pitch. Baseball comes with spring to professionals, but Card boys play it all year round.

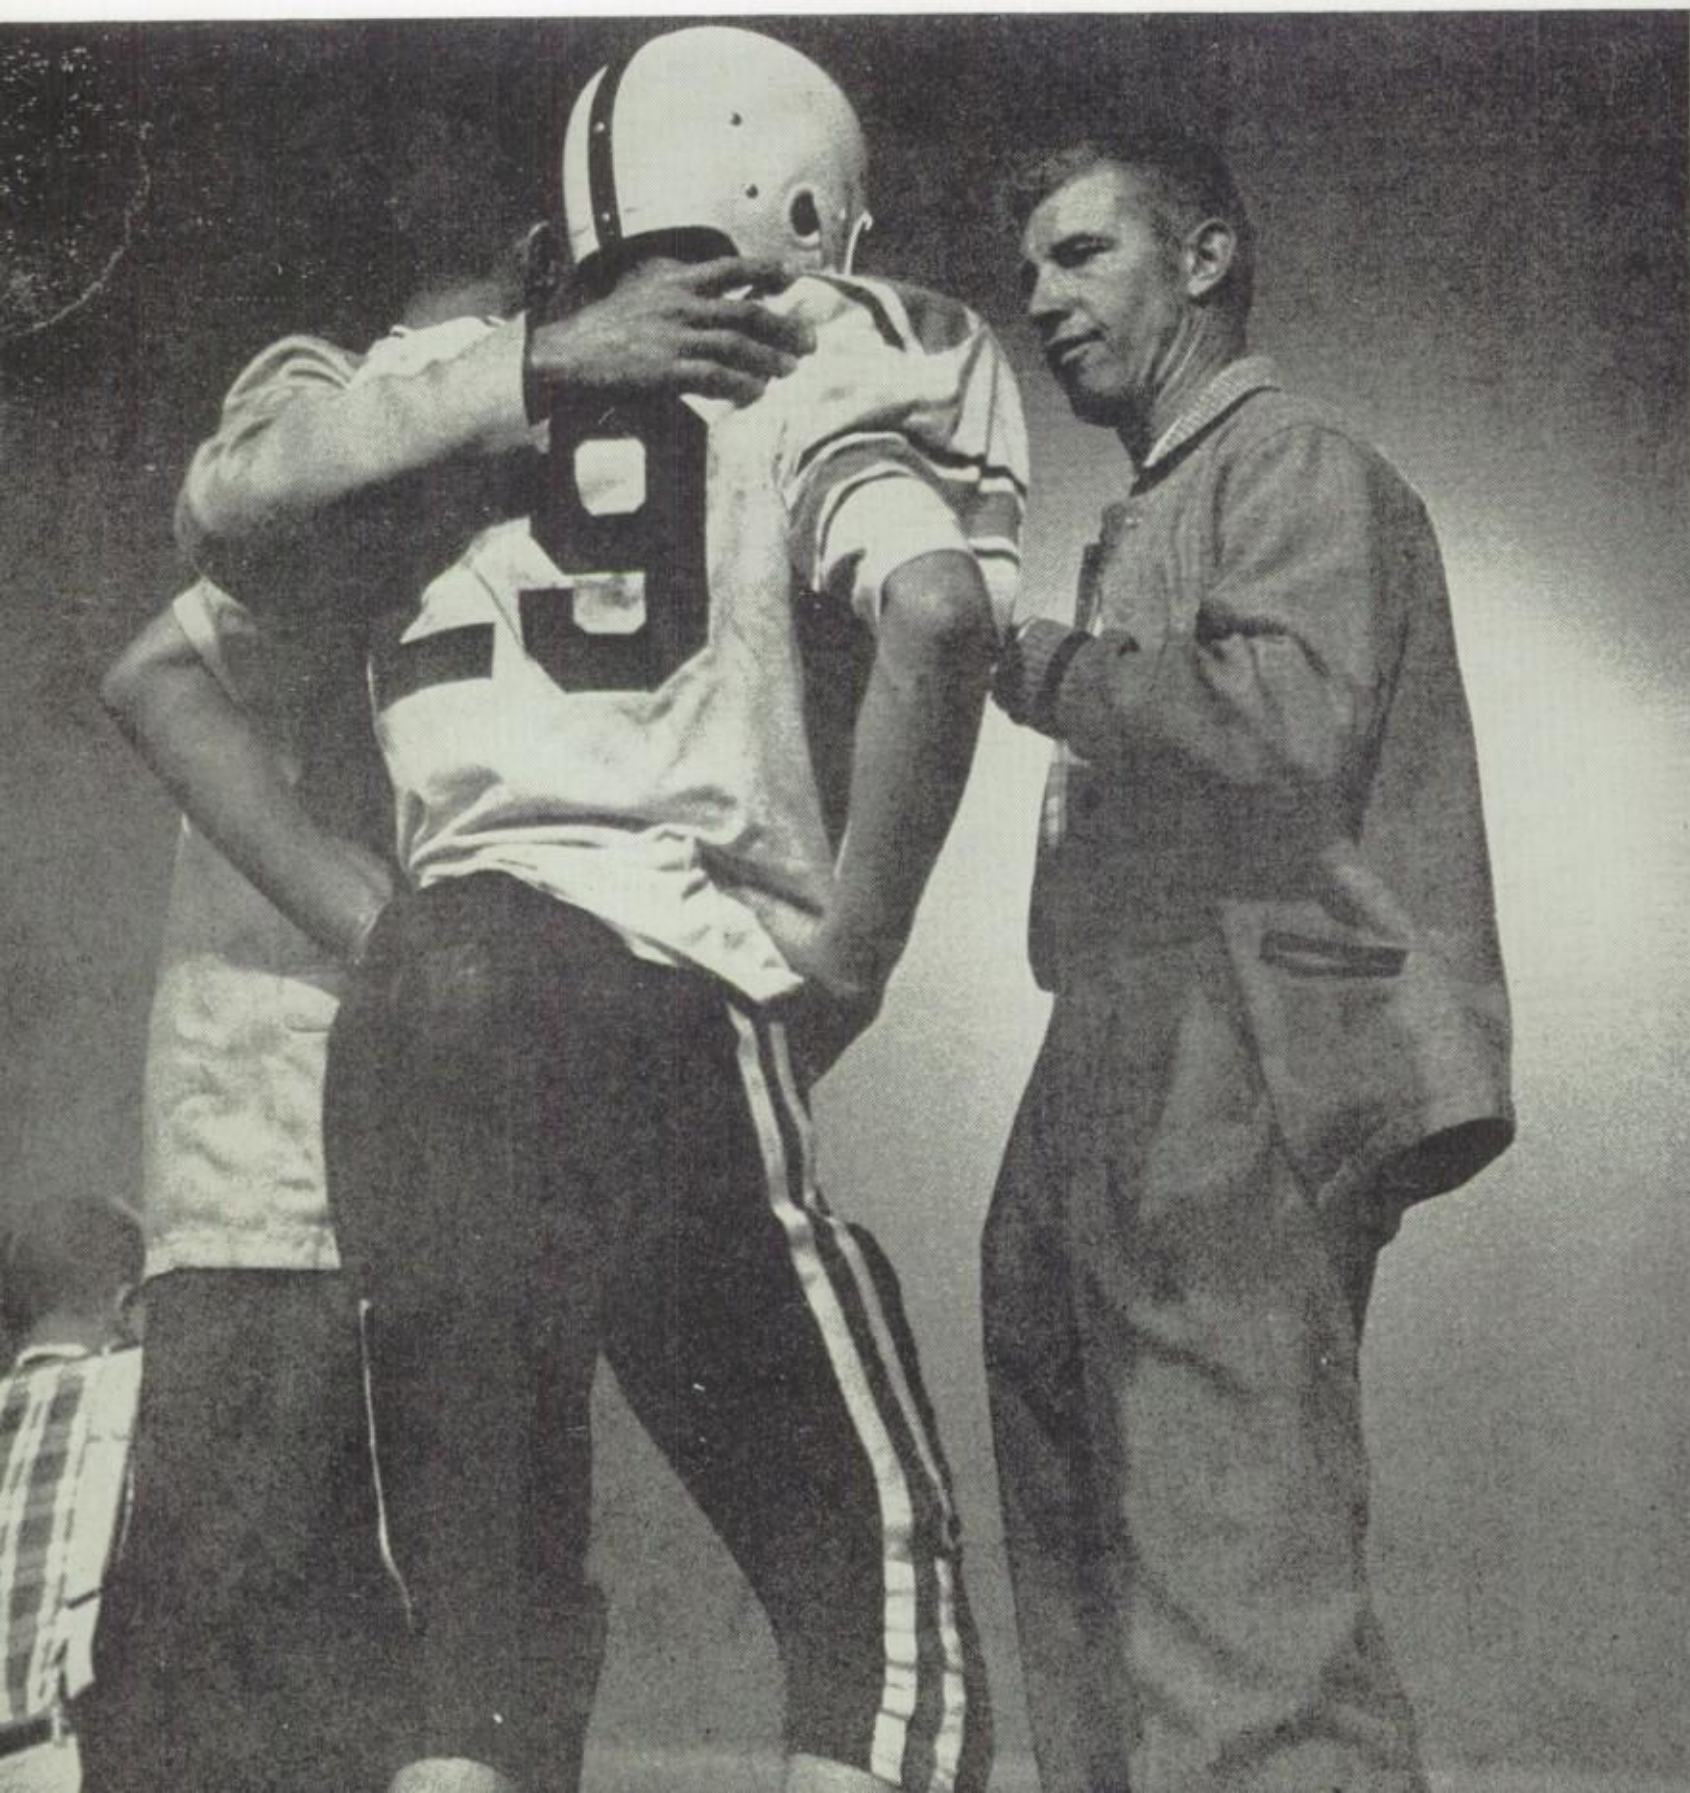

Fast and furious play in basketball games was not uncommon when boys' spirits aroused and the weather permitted.

GRIDDERS LOW IN CBL SCORING, HIGH IN SPIRIT

Carl Schiller, in his first year as head coach at SBHS fielded a very light, but speedy, team which gave the crowds lots of excitement in all outings. The Cards opened the 1958 season with an impressive victory over the Olympians of Leuzinger by a score of 18 to 7. Ace tailback, Alex Johnson led the Redbird offense by bursting through for two T.D.'s, and John Howard, the Card's speedy wingback, tallied the other score after intercepting an Olympian pass. The following week the Cardinals traveled to San Diego to play Grossmont High School, and in a nip-and-tuck battle, the Cards came out on the short end of a 13 to 12 score. Had the pigskinners been able to hold back Old Father Time, they might have won this one, for the game ended with the Redbirds on the one foot line of Grossmont! John Howard and Darrell Carter tallied SBHS's touchdowns. Having split these two practice games the Cards went into league play the next week and put up a strong battle against powerful CBL champion Colton. The Cards were edged by a score of 13 to 0.

Still stung by their loss the previous week, the Cardinals played host to the Poly Bears of Riverside, both teams battled through three scoreless periods before the Mission City eleven downed the Cards 21 to 0. Held scoreless in their first two league games, the Cardinal offense began to roll. In the Homecoming game with Fontana, the Cards ran up a total of 300 yards rushing, with Alex Johnson responsible for over 190 of them. The tricky tailback scored twice, and then passed to wingback Darrell Carter to make the final score 21 to 12. Carter kicked all three conversions successfully. SBHS's next opponent was Redlands, and once again the Cards were beaten, 25 to 0. Having lost to their next opponent the previous year the Redbirds were out to seek revenge over Ramona of Riverside.

In the contest the Cardinals produced the "all the way in one play" spirit as they beat the Rams 18 to 0 with John Howard and fullback Harry Louder making the big noise. Then came the "big game" with arch-rival Pacific. The boys played tremendous ball; with only four minutes remaining in the game it looked as though the two clubs were going to battle to a nothing-to-nothing deadlock. Then lightning struck, for as Darrell Carter, of the Cards, went back to punt on his own 18 yard line, one of the Pirates broke through and blocked the kick and Pacific recovered the ball on the 9-yard line of the Cards. They scored two plays later and won the game 7 to 0. This marked the second time in five years that the Pirates have beaten the boys of Cardinal City. However, it was a game full of excitement and thrills. In the team's last game of the year, against the Antelopes of Antelope Valley, Coach Schiller started an all senior team which built up a 12 to 0 score during their allotted first quarter—and then the Juniors and Sophomores took over. Fullback Ruben Villavencencio scored twice while Darrel Carter, Alex Johnson, and Eddie Williams (brought up from JV's), all scored once as the Cards trounced the Antelopes 33 to 14. It was their best offensive night of the season as they racked up over 360 yards rushing. Coach Schiller said, "although the boys were often outweighed they played tremendous ball. I've never coached a better bunch of boys."

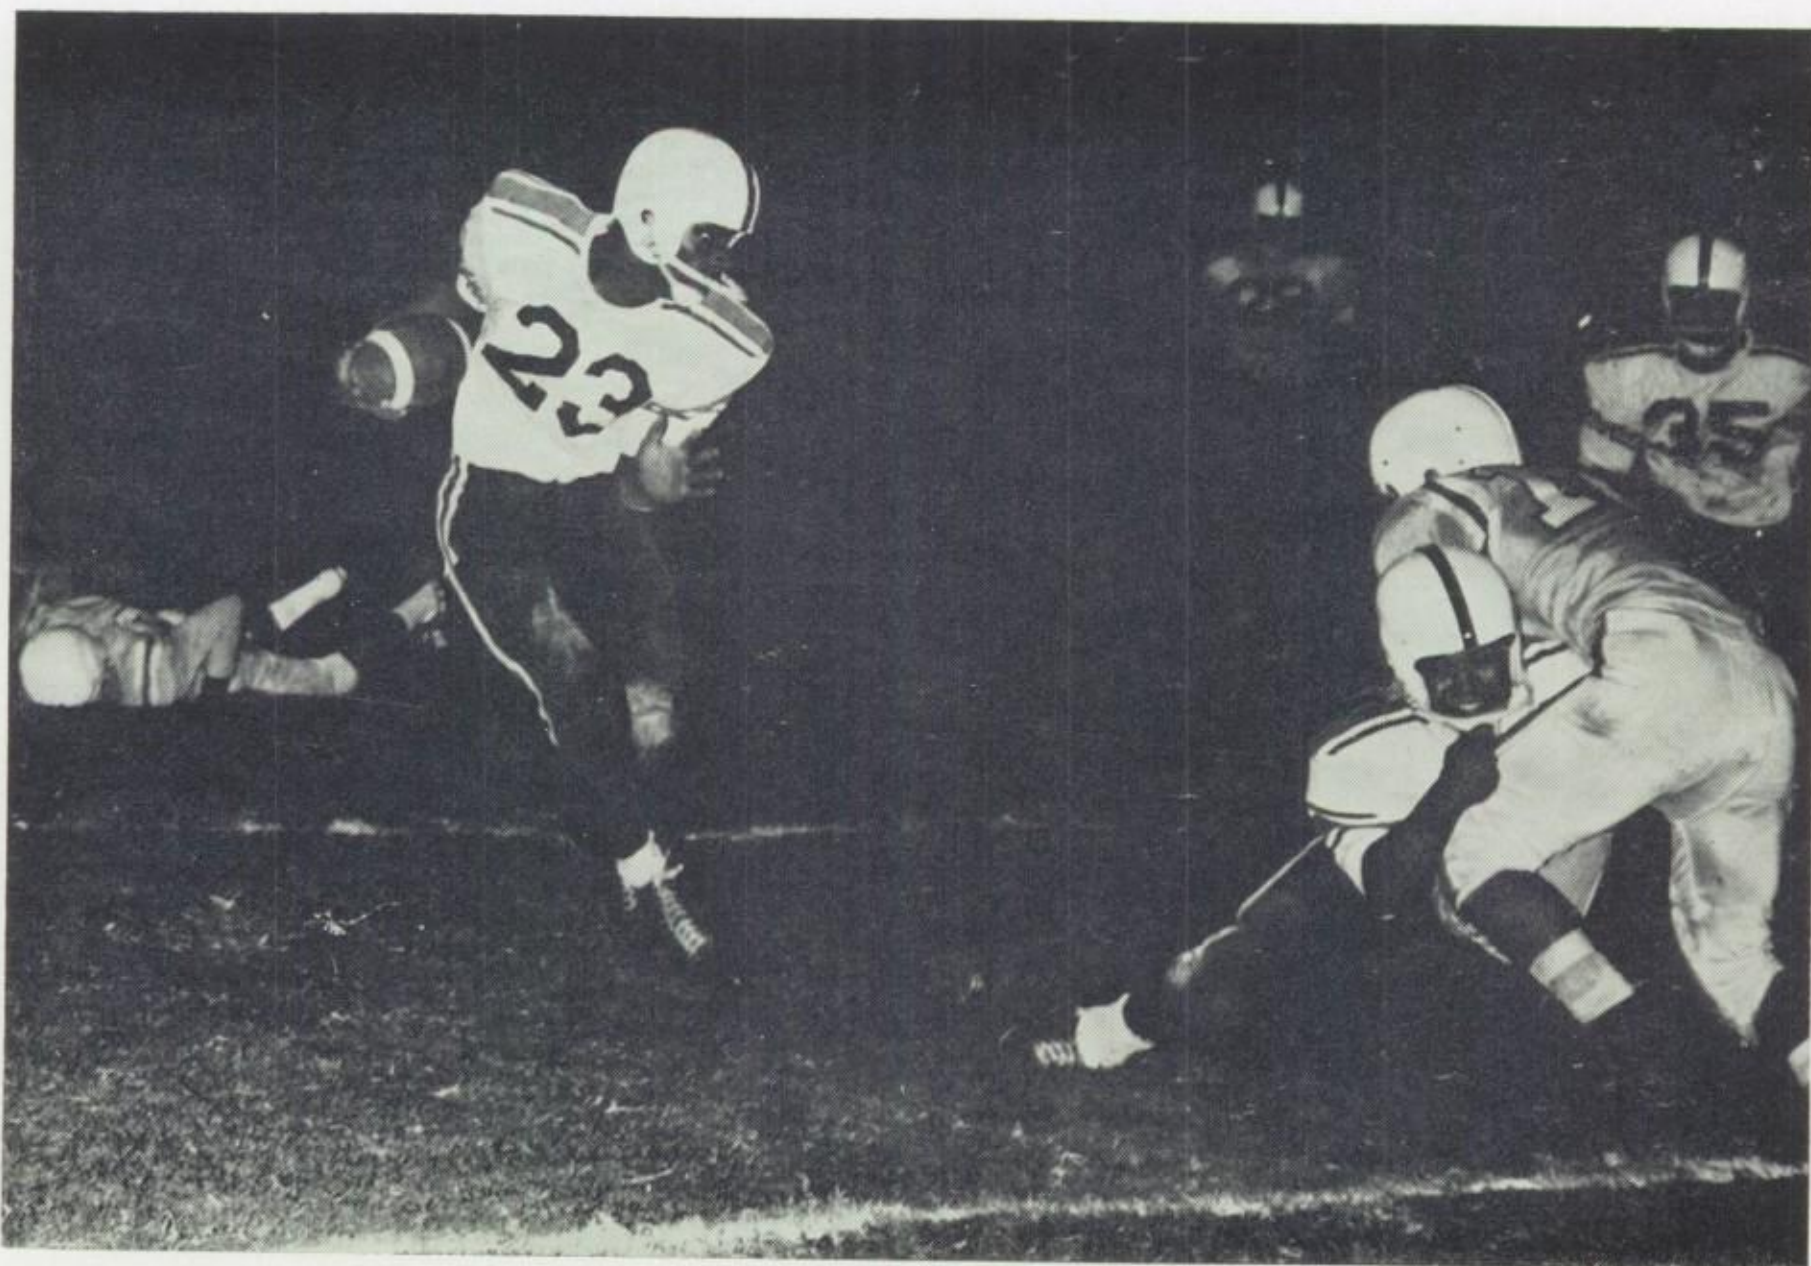

With the return of speedsters Johnson and Williams and judging from the experience and speed the other underclassmen have shown, SBHS's football squad should be on the top of things in CBL next year.

The Ten Football Commandments

1. The team that makes the fewest mistakes wins.
2. Press the kicking game, for it is here the breaks are made.
3. Play for and make the breaks. When one comes your way, score.
4. If at first the game or a break goes against you, don't slow down, put on more steam.
5. Cover, Oski, and pursue relentlessly; here is the winning edge.
6. Linemen, protect your kicker and passer. Rush their kicker and passer. Backs, protect your kicker and passer.
7. Carry the fight to your opponent and keep it there all afternoon. Hit hard and hit first.
8. Be mentally alert at all times and leave nothing to chance.
9. Be determined to carry out your assignment.
10. Win the surest way.

JV's trounce foes in winning mythical crown

FLEET BACK LEADS CARD TRIUMPHS

Led by scoring ace Eddie Williams, the Cards' Junior Varsity had a tremendous season.

Opening their play against Aquinas, the JV's suffered their first loss in two years by a score of 13-12. Williams, whom Coach Jim Hackleman feels is probably the best all-around back he has coached since taking over the Junior Varsity, scored two of his 16 touchdowns in this game.

Hackleman feels the team put forth their best effort in the Pacific game, which the JV's won 33-0. "The boys did a terrific job under pressure," were the words of the proud coach. Several sophomores did very well: Walter Meers, David Turner, Gary Dean, and Mike O'Neal were among them. The total output by all the JV's opponents was 33 points this year, while the Red-birds racked up 244 points against them. This marked the second straight year they have had a 200 plus scoring record. All in all, the Junior Varsity did a very good job in compiling a 5-2-1 record. They will be looked upon to help Coach Schiller's varsity squad next year.

"This ought to work," exclaims Coach Hackleman to his assistant, Coach Wilkins, as they plan strategy for next game.

Improved Cardettes still lacked experience

HARD FIGHTING BEES SHOWED SPIRIT

The Cardettes of '59 improved immensely over the team of the previous year, winning three and losing four.

As usual, the team was composed mainly of sophomores, while other teams in the CBL were made up of juniors and seniors.

One of the Cardette's victories was a hard fought win over always tough Colton. The final score was 26-0.

Ed Trujillo and Mickey Gneck starred in this one as they did in every other outing. All season was not victorious for the B's, but their loss to arch-rival Pacific was the closest of the season. The baby Cards were deep in the Pirates' territory several times, but couldn't punch over a touchdown. Among them were Ed Trujillo, Mickey Gneck, Charles DeMorst, and Fred Mielke. These boys, plus several others, should help Coach Carl Schiller's varsity squad next year.

Cagers couldn't break jinx

SBHS's hoopsters had another winning season, but not quite up to that of the past. Colton retained its "jinx" over the Cards by pasting them three times this year. The Redbirds, who, by the way, had the tallest team in the league, started off on the right foot by winning their first three pre-season games over Glendora, 42-33; Baldwin Park, 56-35; and Pomona-Ganesha, 69-34. The latter was won without scoring ace John Flowers.

The Cards lost their next two games against Chaffey and Covina, still without the services of All CBL Flowers.

The following week came the annual Alumni game. This game marked the return of John (Slim) Flowers, who led the Card attack, whipping The Grads, 50-30. This initiated a four-game win streak over Antelope Valley 46-41; Claremont 62-34; and Paramount. The latter was the first game in the Kiwanis Tournament.

This win streak was rudely halted by Colton. The Yellowjackets edged the Cards 42-41 and knocked the Redbirds out of the tourney. Because of the narrow Colton victory, the first league game was rated a toss-up, but the Cardinals were out justled of a win, 53-42.

The round-ball men met Riverside and won 46-44, starting another four-game win streak, with victories over Fontana, 64-39, Redlands 33-32, and Ramona 50-53. The victory express was derailed by another one-point saueaker with arch-rival Pacific 44-42. This marked the first time the Bucs had beaten the Cards in varsity basketball in four years of close rivalry.

In their third meeting of the year, contender SBHS and champ Colton put up a terrific battle, but once again the Card hoopsters were out pointed, 64 to 48.

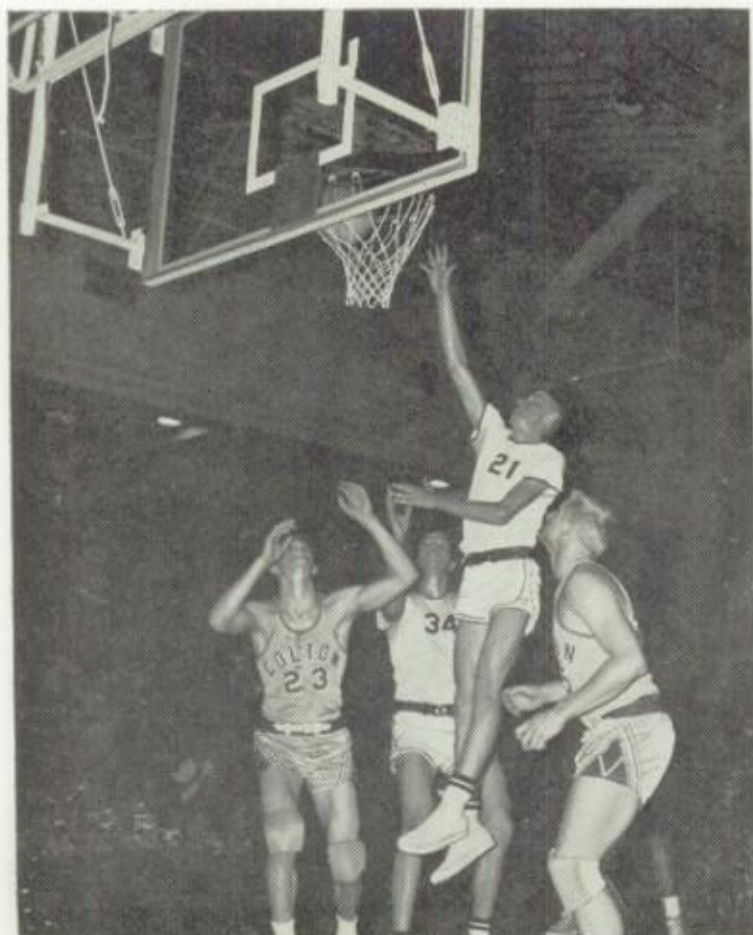

The Cardinals, humiliated by these three losses, trounced Fontana 51-31 in their next contest, but the taste of victory turned bitter for the Cards when Redlands thumped them 48-44 the following Friday.

In the final week of play, the Redbirds were victorious in both of their outings, beating Ramona and Pacific by almost identical scores, 57-46 and 57-44 respectively, ending the season in a tie for third place. This marked the first time in three years that the Cards had finished lower than second place.

Cooch Adair's reason for the team's somewhat poor showing this season was a lack of the "take charge" guys like Lyle Kepford and Skip Glenn. However, SBHS did well this year and with the return of spark-plugs Frank Salgado and Jerry Elton, plus the B's and the JV's who will come up, the Cards should prove to be a basketball power next season.

STROKE OF BAD LUCK HALTS CARD WIN STREAK

Marching through its schedule with a clean slate, until the final game, SBHS's JV team came within four seconds of being the only undefeated basketball team in San Bernardino County. Coach John Dowd's quintet led all Card City hoopsters with a 16-1 record. Only a varsity-aided Pacific five ruined an otherwise unblemished record in the last game of the season. Making a basket a split second before the final buzzer, Pacific overcame a one-point San Bernardino lead in a furious finish.

Cardinals overpowered 19 foes in a row, counting three wins from last year, before the Pacific downfall.

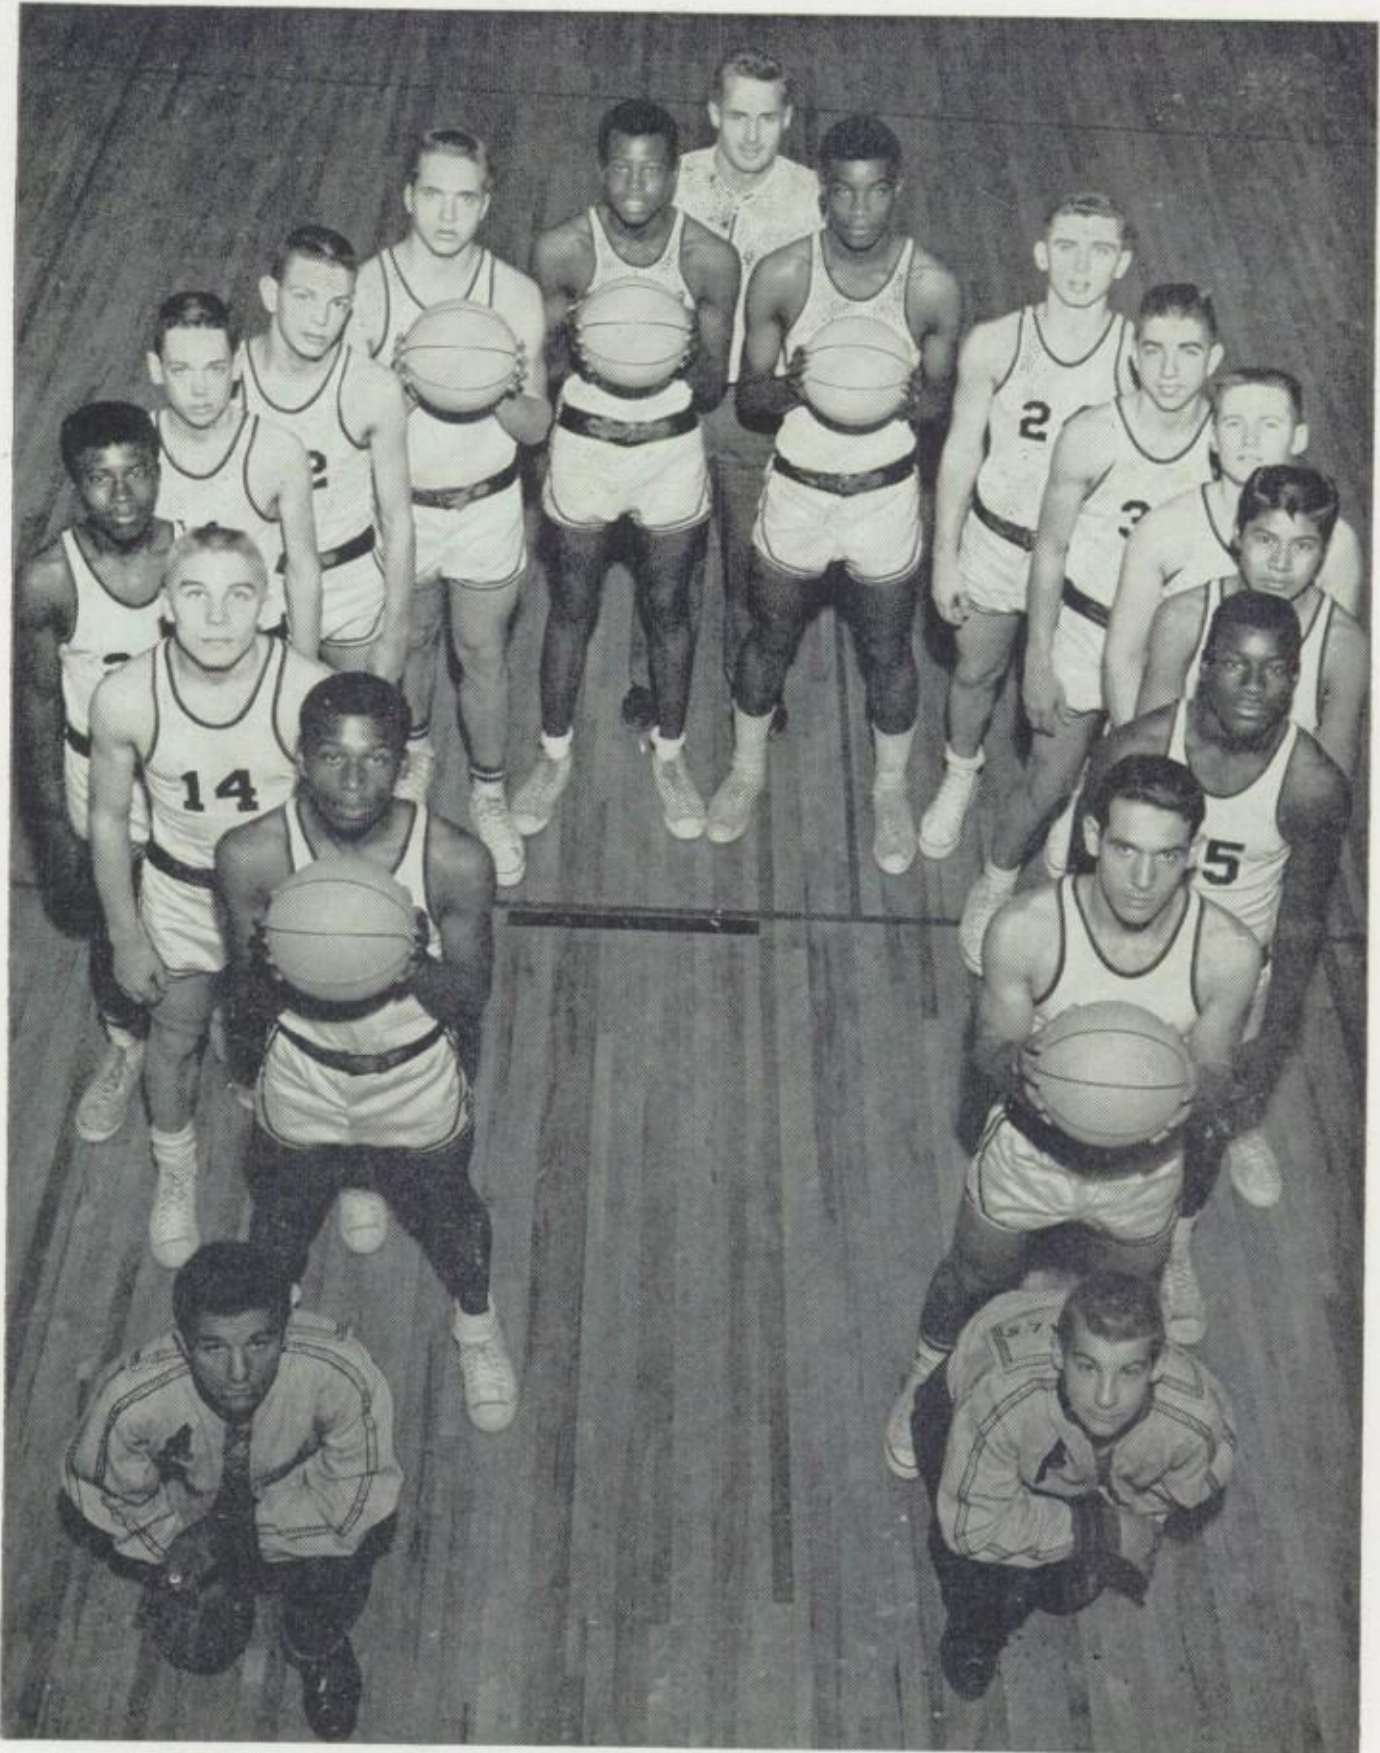

Early in the season, SBHS slaughtered Baldwin Park 77-26, then mercilessly tromped Pomona 53-18. Not all games were such smooth sailing for the classy Cards. They squeaked by Colton 46 to 45. Redlands and Ramona threw scares into the Redbirds 43-42 and 43-41. The second time around it was a different story as they rolled over these same foes by more convincing scores.

The JV's averaged almost 55 points a game under the floor generalship of Captain Bobby Guerra. Sophomores Richard Lisle and Eugene Brown did terrific jobs. Brown was later voted Most Improved Player.

League decision keeps champs out of CIF

Coach Hackleman figures out strategy that helped his Cardettes win league championship.

ONLY ONE TOURNEY PER YEAR, SAYS RULING

Coach Hackleman's Cardettes threaded their way across enemy-filled basketball courts to win their third CBL title in four starts only to find a CBL ruling prevented them from battling for another title in the traditional Santa Monica CIF tournament. The "B's" ran up a 17-4 record with only one returning letterman.

San Bernardino rolled over non-league opponents easily, but was rudely halted by Colton in the finals of the Pacific "B" tournament, 46 to 32.

The Bees opened league play against Colton, and again were set back 48 to 29. After this shocker the Cardettes ran headlong into another toughy with Riverside, but luck was with them as they squeaked by 41 to 39. The next week the Bees mercilessly crushed Fontana 79 to 38. Redlands then handed the Cardettes their last defeat of the season. After skipping by Ramona and Pacific, the Cardettes gained revenge against Colton 41 to 24.

The starting five: Martinez, Auerbach, McCarroll, DeMorst, and Koch, along with able subs Meadows and Rowe, are valuable prospects for future basketball seasons at SBHS.

Cardinal horsehiders were constant menace

Card pitcher, Ray Melvin, slams out another hit as Redbirds defeat Colton, 9-5.

WIN-MACHINE SPUTTERS THROUGH SEASON

Coach Jack Wilkins' horsehiders opened up the 1959 season with a 7-0 victory over Antelope Valley, then went on to win six straight before breaking the streak with a tie with Colton.

After the 6-6 tie with Colton, the Redbirds played host to Riverside and Fontana, losing by counts of 14-6 and 15-1 respectively.

This was only the beginning; the Cards then entered the Pomona tournament and again lost two more contests to Chaffey and Upland, 10-0 and 2-1, eliminating themselves from the tourney.

They returned to league play only to lose once again, this time to the hands of Redlands, 4-2. The Cards, determined as they were, quickly halted these unbelievable losses with a 5-1 victory over Ramona. This was what they needed to get rolling. The Card express rolled over their next three opponents easily, handcuffing Pacific, 3-1; Colton, 9-5; and Riverside, 3-1.

In their next battle, with league champ Fontana, the Redbirds were beaten 4-3 as the Steelers scored three runs in the bottom of the ninth, thus practically knocking out all hopes of earning a play-off within the CIF. With the slim hope of doing so, the baseballers ended the season with three victories.

J. V. BASEBALL

The J.V.'s as usual were very effective in the CBL's rough competition. The team strived forward constantly and finished the season with a very commendable ten win and two loss record. They tied for first place with the Yellowjackets from Colton. The team worked very well together with smooth efficiency and good sportsmanship. The pitching chores were divided between Manuel and Ernie Martinez. Ernie, doing most of the work, was very successful, winning 6 and losing only 2. One of these losses was to Colton but Ednie returned in the second half of the season to defeat the mighty Yellowjackets. But the pitching cannot win a ball game by itself; it also takes batting and the team had plenty of that. The leading hitters on the team were John Benson, J. B. Antrobus, and Eddie Williams. All in all, the coach, Paul Taylor, was very pleased with the turnout of the season. He hopes to have an even better team next year with the arrival of ball players from the Junior Highs.

Racketmen finish low in CBL standings

With only one returning letterman in the person of Allen Boyles, SBHS's tennis squad did better than expected.

The Cardinals lost to Colton, 27-6; Riverside, 21-12; Redlands, 18-15; and Pacific, 18-15. However, under the new scoring system, if the Cards had won only one more match in each of these contests, they would have emerged victorious.

The Redbirds had an outstanding doubles team of Dennis Wilson and Jack Burke. Don Leedy and Denny Bostwick, two juniors, helped the racketmen immensely and they, plus the upcoming men from the Junior Varsity outfit, should provide strong opposition for the other league foes next year.

THINCLADS LED BY SPEEDY JOHN HOWARD

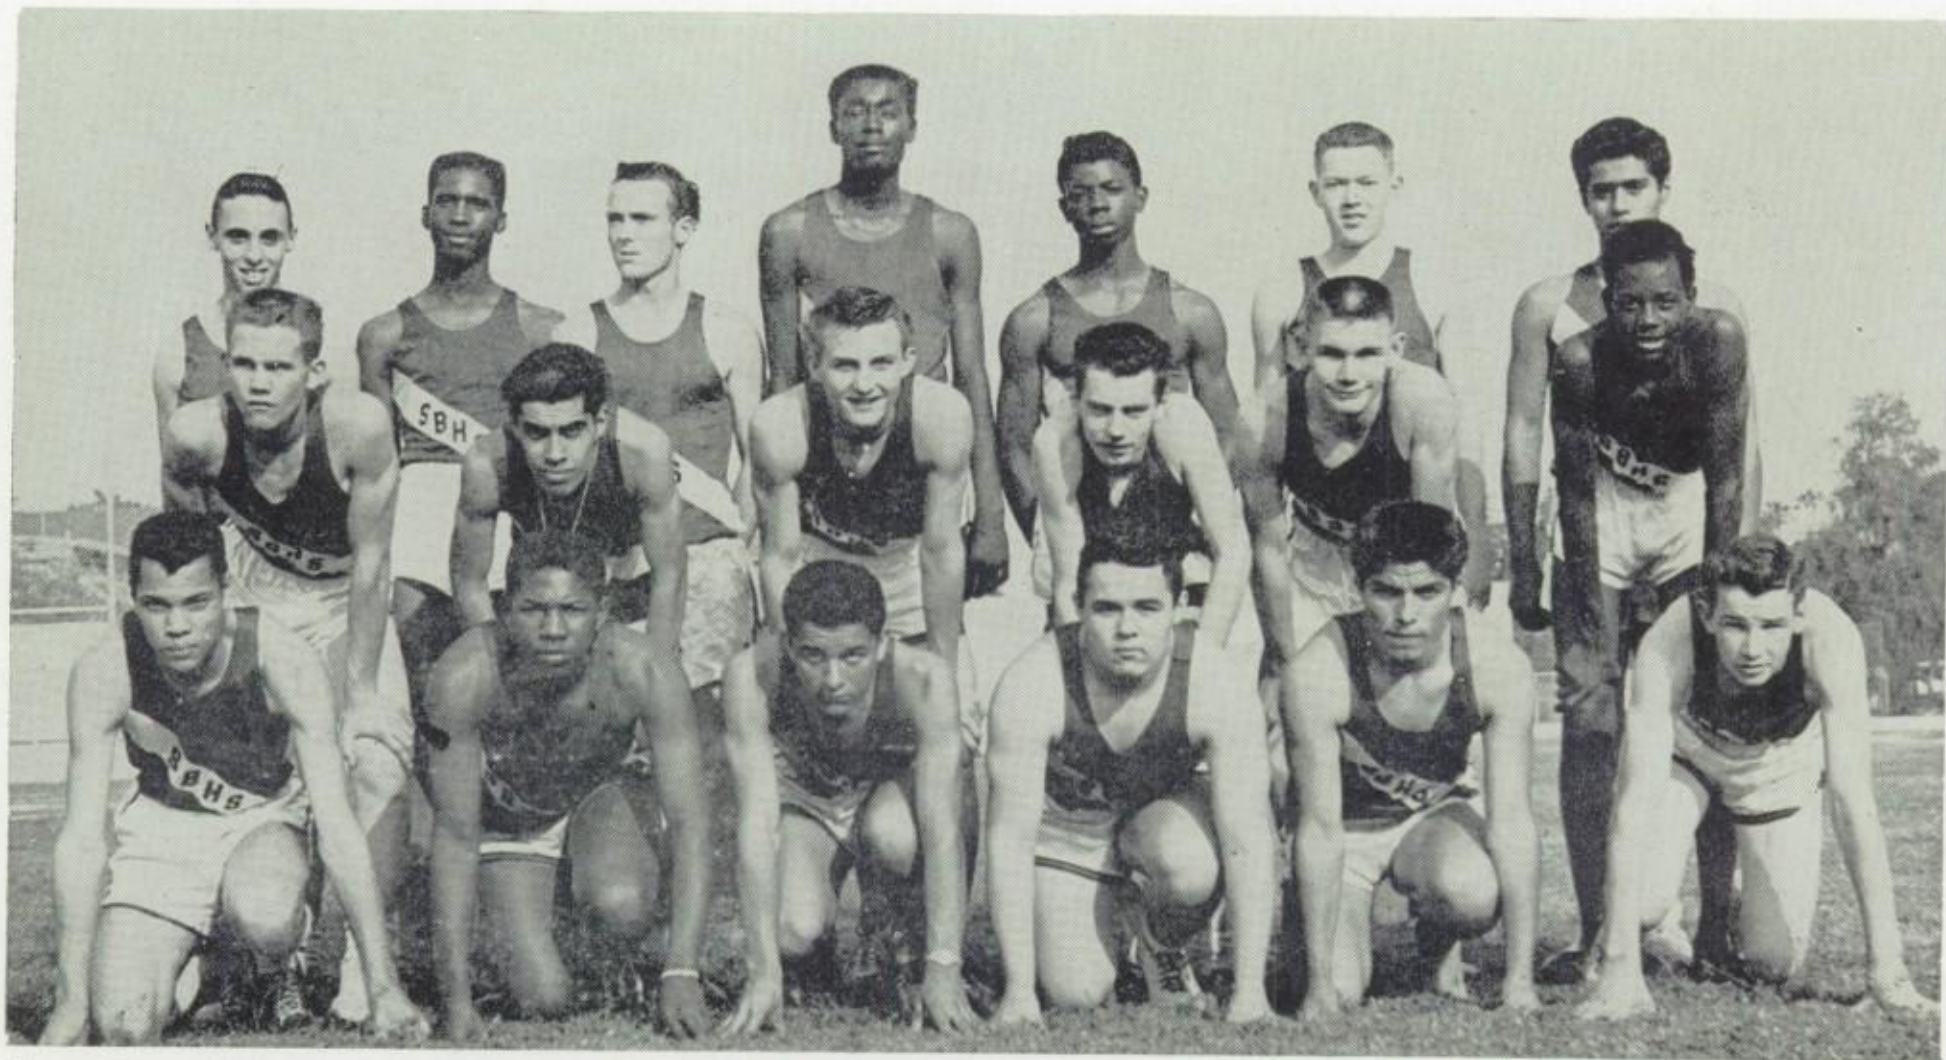

John Howard had one of the best times in the CIF in the 100-yard dash, 9.6 seconds. His 24 foot 2½-inch broad jump was the best in the CIF and rated second in the state. Howard's 220-yard dash was one that couldn't be overlooked either, churning the furlong in 21.2.

Several other boys were outstanding. Sophomore Junior Morrison had best times of 10 flat in the 100-yard dash and 22.3 in the 220-yard dash; Herm Zietlow proved that he could handle the big boys with a 49.5 in the 440-yard dash. SBHS boasted another fine 880-yard relay team this season, who had a best of 1.29 flat. This speedy foursome consisted of Harry Louder, Zietlow, Morrison, and Howard.

Thad Jackson, Charles Reed, Lynn Jackson, Ron Brezezinski are a few others who helped the varsity tremendously.

Some outstanding B's were Willie Gaines, Joe Jones, George Moore, and Johnny Stewart, who all blazed the way.

The C's, led by Bunny Brown, outstanding hurdling prospect, showed that they were not to be denied by crushing their foes unmercifully. Dave Lockert, Bill Perryman, Walter Richards, and Jim Darling did remarkably well. The fact being that a very few of this year's squad were seniors makes future team prospects good; Coach Hank Rohn should field another outstanding squad next year.

It's all smiles for Coach Stahlheber, who guided his wrestling squad to second place in the CBL.

BRIGHT YEAR FOR CARD GRAPPLERS

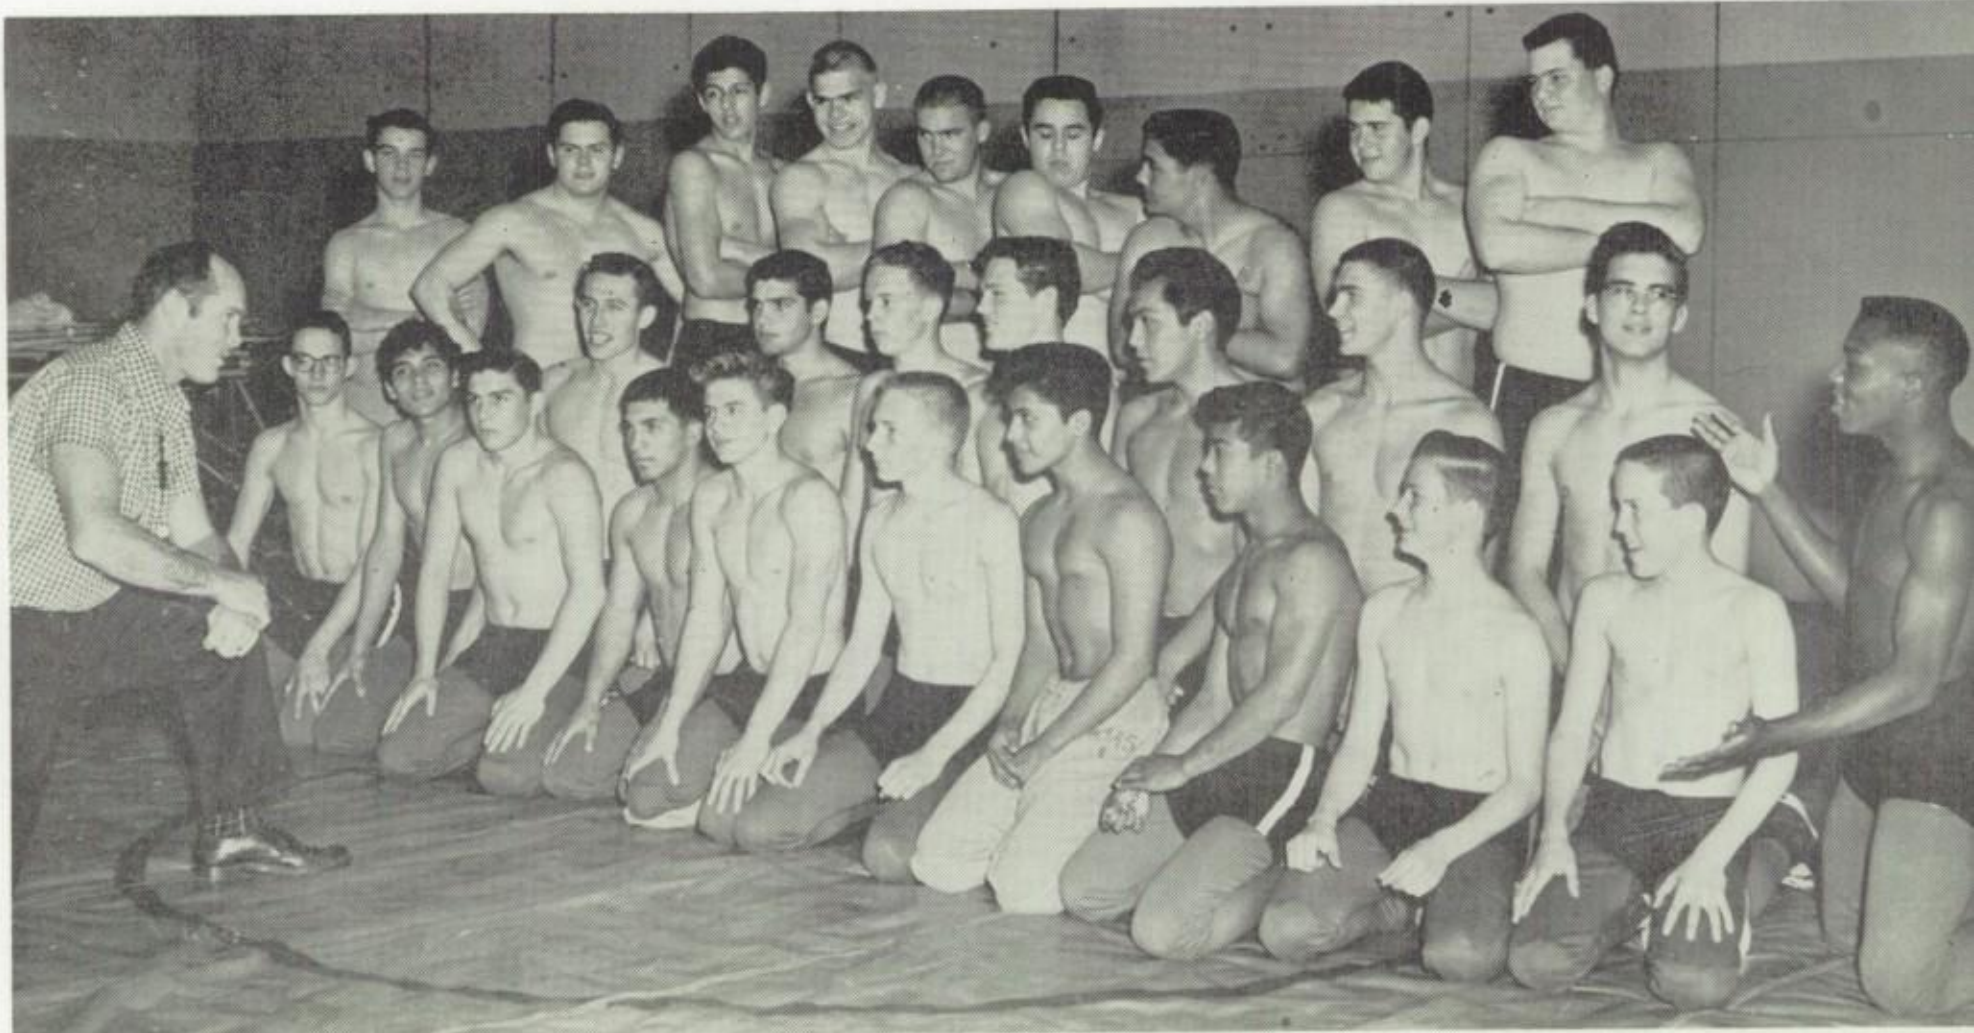

1958-1959 was a bright year for wrestling at SBHS. Although the team was in its second year of competition and first year in league play, it performed some tremendous feats, compiling a 12 and 3 won-and-loss record. This is remarkable for a team with so little experience.

The grapplers met many teams with several years of seniority over them. These included such teams as Pacific, Redlands, and Chino. Taking over the reins from John Earp, who moved up to Athletic Co-ordinator of San Bernardino Schools, Coach Jack Stahlheber guided his team to a strong second place finish in the CBL.

Champion Redlands handed them their only two defeats in league play; however, the Cards defeated their other league foes convincingly as revealed by a 10-2 record. This was accomplished by a magnificent team effort. Outstanding were Debbs Gileno and Walter Richards. Gileno had a remarkable 13-2-1 dual match record and went on to capture the 175-pound division in the CBL tourney. Richards compiled a 13-3 dual match record and went on to win the 105-pound division in the tourney. Loren White, Frank Hayes, Jim Ward, Oliver Newsome, and David Hernandez also helped the team immensely. Ward was one of the top heavy men. He finished third in the tourney and went on to capture fifth place in the CIF.

Debbs Gileno was voted captain and Most Valuable Wrestler of the team. Several outstanding wrestlers of this year's squad were juniors and sophomores, thus making wrestling's future at SBHS look very bright.

Mermen splash to nineteen school records

CARDETTES POINT FOR GREATER DEPTH IN '60

Though hurt by lack of depth, Coach Ed Wheeler's outstanding merman splashed through to their best season during the 1959 campaign. The well-coached Cardinal swimmers broke nineteen school records this year and qualified four members to the CIF preliminaries.

Heading the list of record breakers were Dave Olsen, Dexter James, Art Groos, Rex Peters and Jim Harris.

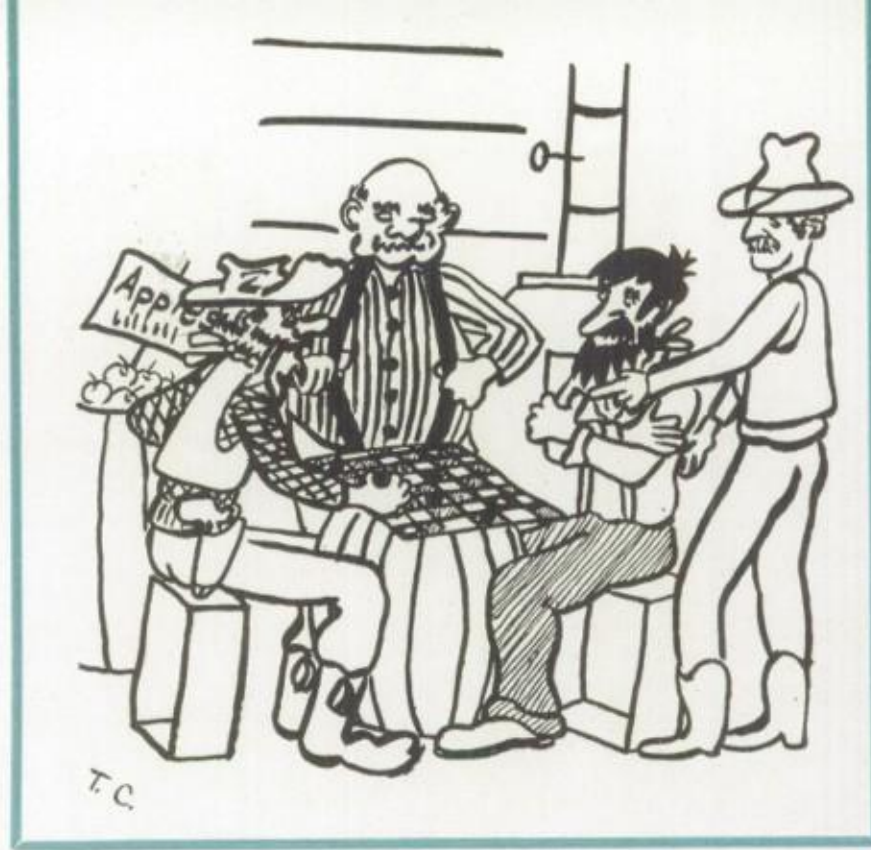

With little hope of upsetting Riverside in the varsity division, the Cards concentrated on the B's to win a thriller from Redlands 70 to 64. SBHS won the final relay as Redlands placed second, but was disqualified. This provided the winning margin for the Cardettes. This year's squad did extremely well and Coach Wheeler is expecting an even better team next year.

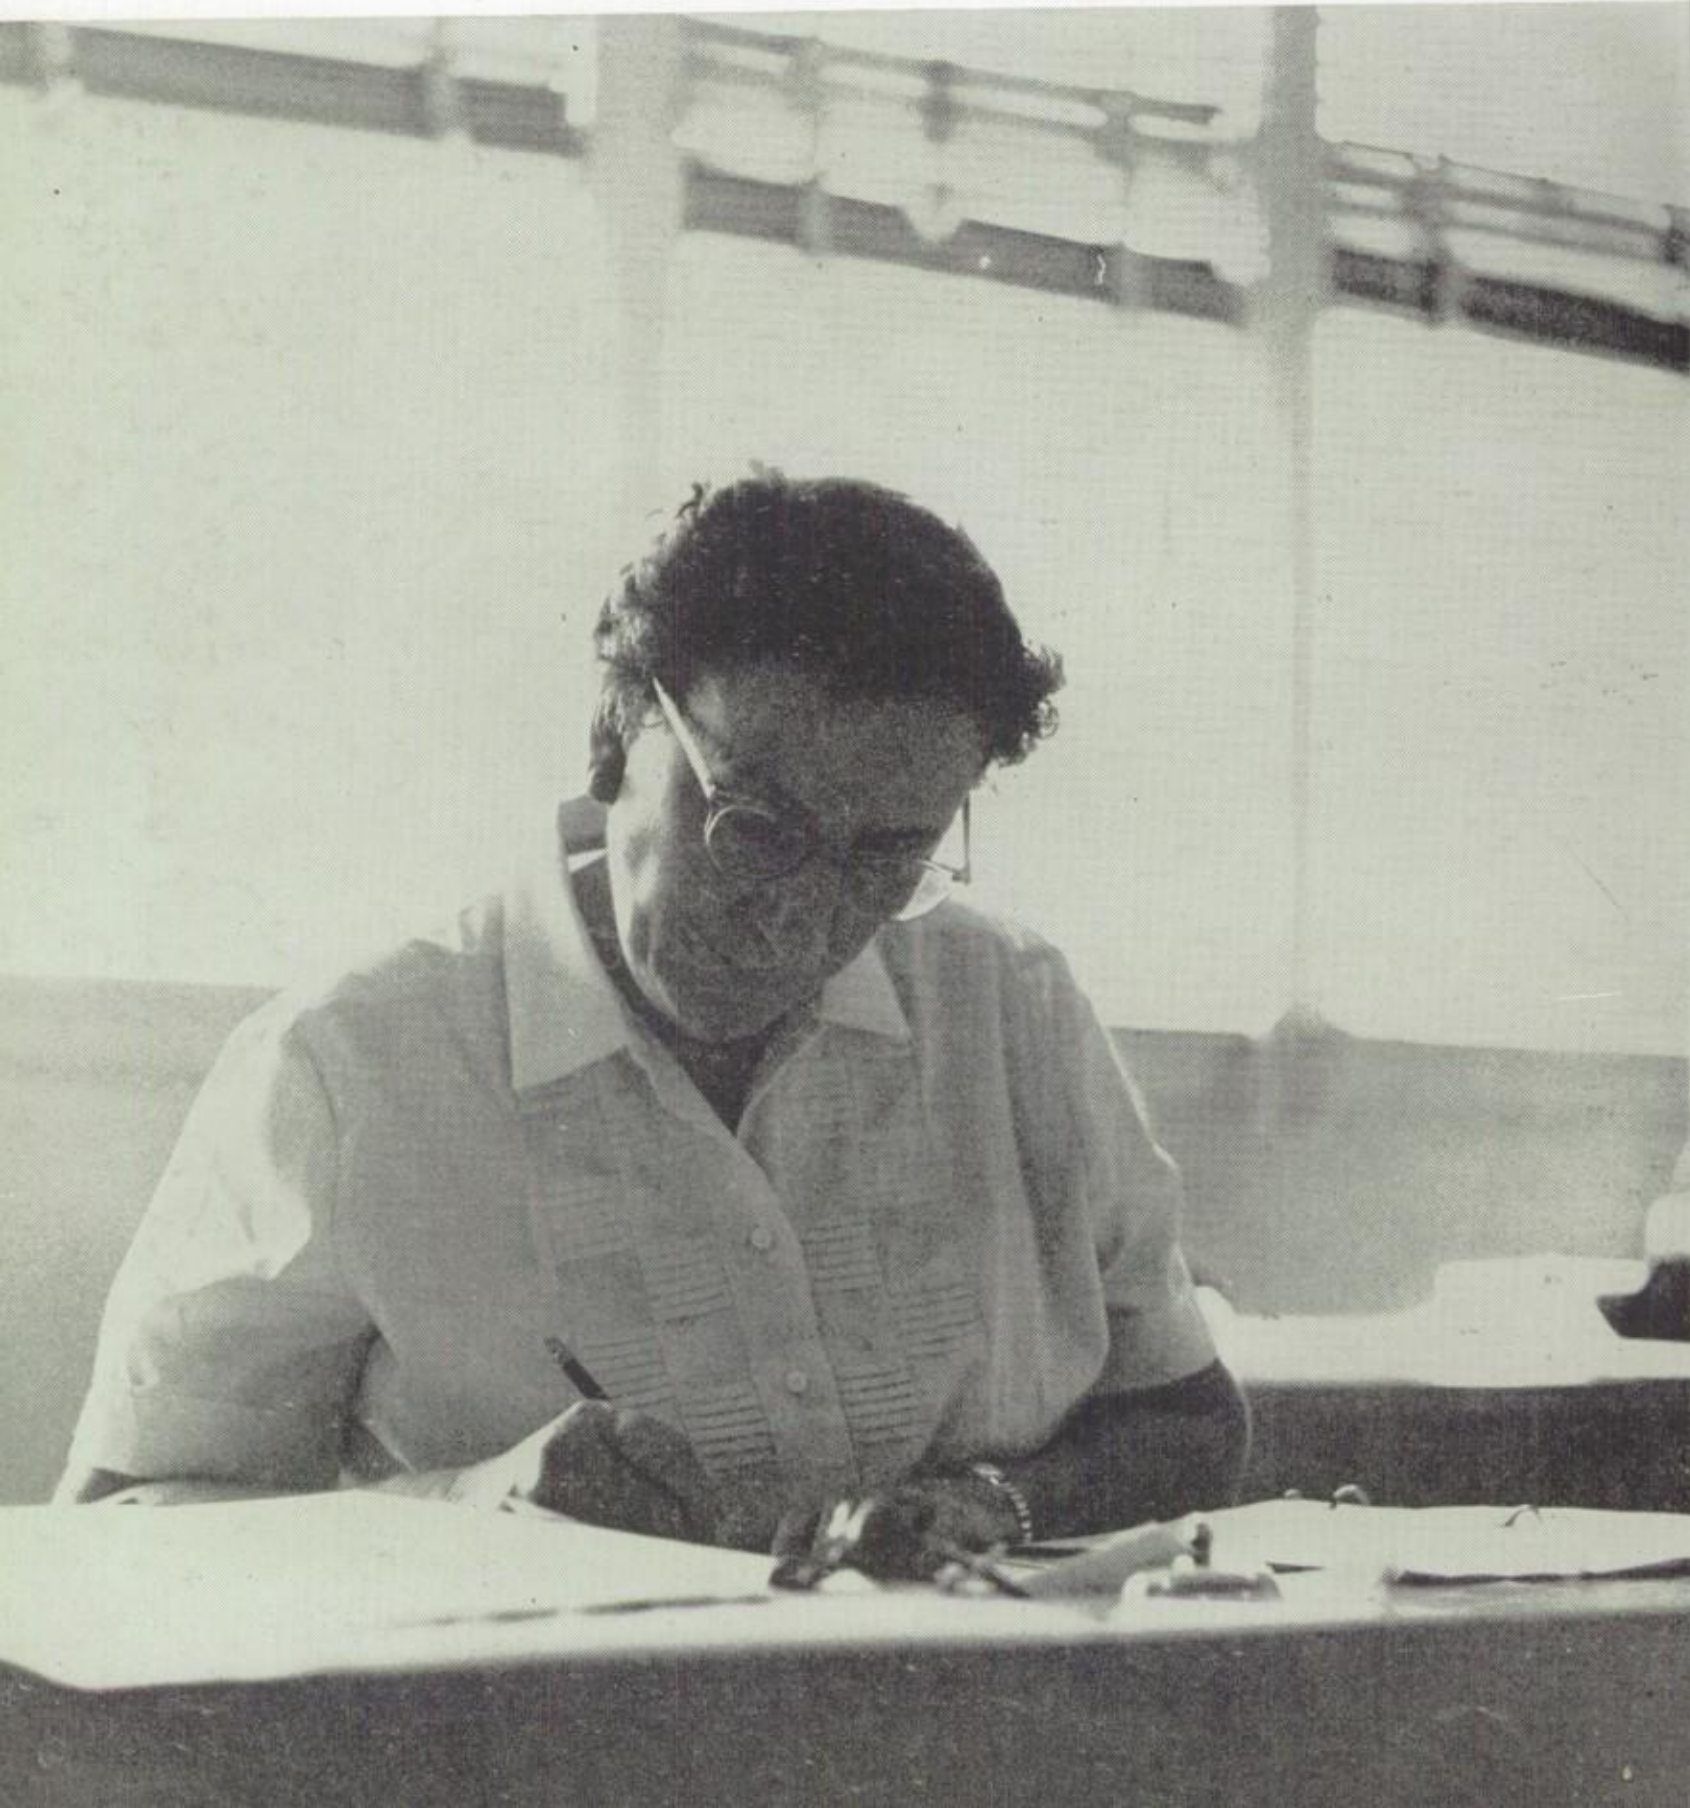

Cardinal speed demons Ron Paredes, Art Groos, Bud Mayer, Bill Vaughan, and Dexter James prepare to take off for the finish line.

Jim Harris, ace diver, demonstrates form which won him first place in the CBL finals.

FACULTY

In those rugged days of '49
Merchants stood behind the line
To stake the pioneer in his quest or elusive gleam.
In '59 the teacher "stakes" us to our questful dream.

GRUBSTAKERS TO KNOWLEDGE

Mr. Roemmich sends his message to all the students of S. B. H. S.

Directing the

It is always a real pleasure to write an annual message to the senior class. I am particularly happy to extend my congratulations and best wishes to the members of the class of '59. This has been an excellent year at Cardinal City. I am certain that you as seniors have been responsible for much of this success. You have been cooperative, resourceful, and have contributed of your time, effort and talents to make this an outstanding year at San Bernardino High School. We will miss you after you have gone. We extend our best wishes to you and hope that good fortune and much happiness will come to each and every one of you.

Otto Roemmich
Principal

Fortunate indeed are those of you who have learned self discipline at home and at school because you have acquired the ability to distinguish between long term and short term goals. Your attitude and philosophy of life are based upon standards of value that consider the welfare of others. You are dependable, courageous, self controlled and independent. Mature people are also self confident, eager, cooperative and realistic. Society depends upon people with these characteristics, and in the United States our way of life will change if our people lose these characteristics. We hope that you have been challenged by great teachers at San Bernardino High School who have helped you to evaluate ideas independently, because you have learned to read critically and discuss intelligently. You have discovered that learning is an adventure that will endure as long as life itself. Never believe that your education is completed when you receive a high school diploma!

Elizabeth Dimock,
Vice Principal in charge of Curriculum and Guidance

Miss Dimock is pleased at the progress made by the students in their search for knowledge.

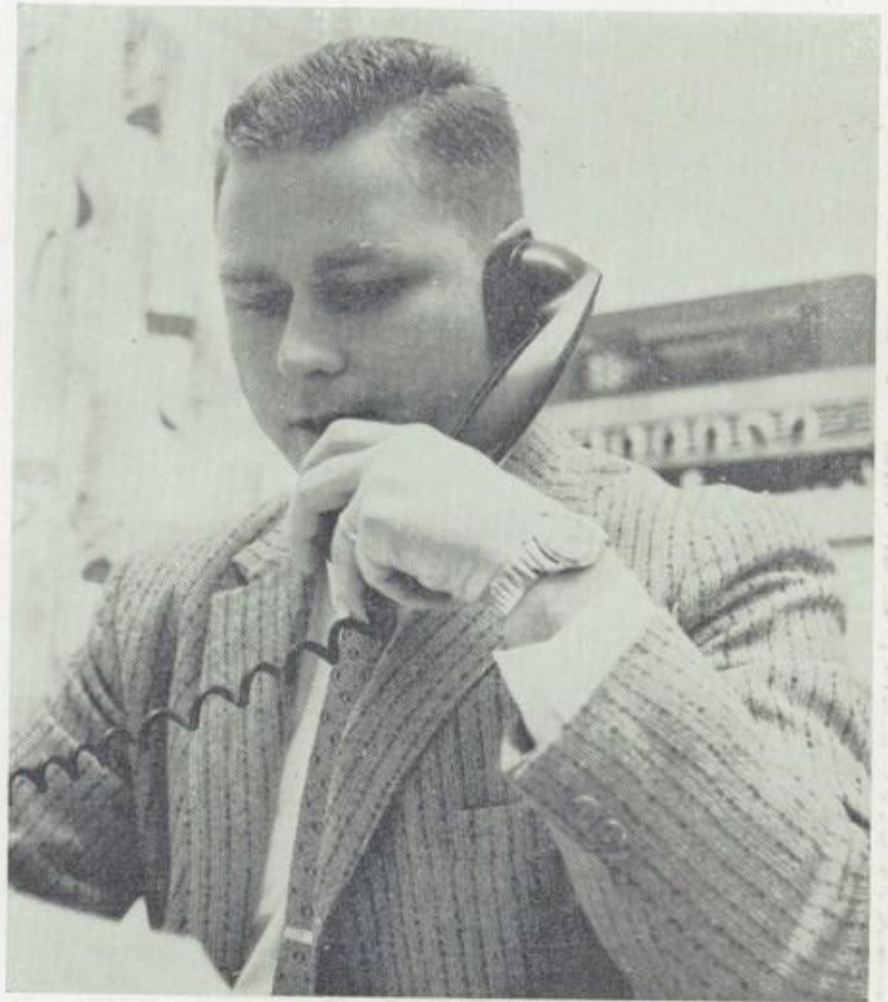

destinies of the '59ers was their job.

San Bernardino High School has made encouraging progress in its efforts to meet more adequately the needs of its pupils and the community. Our success has been achieved through the fine cooperation of students, parents, and faculty; through a deeper insight into the school's role in education; and through the desire for greater educational opportunities on the part of our students.

We are attempting to develop better and more responsible citizens for the future through the use of an adult approach to student problems, whether they be curricular, disciplinary, vocational, or personal.

It is my sincere pleasure and honor to be associated with such a forward-looking student body and faculty.

Curtis Glass
Vice Principal

Mr. Glass speaks to parents to promote the cooperation of students, parents, and faculty.

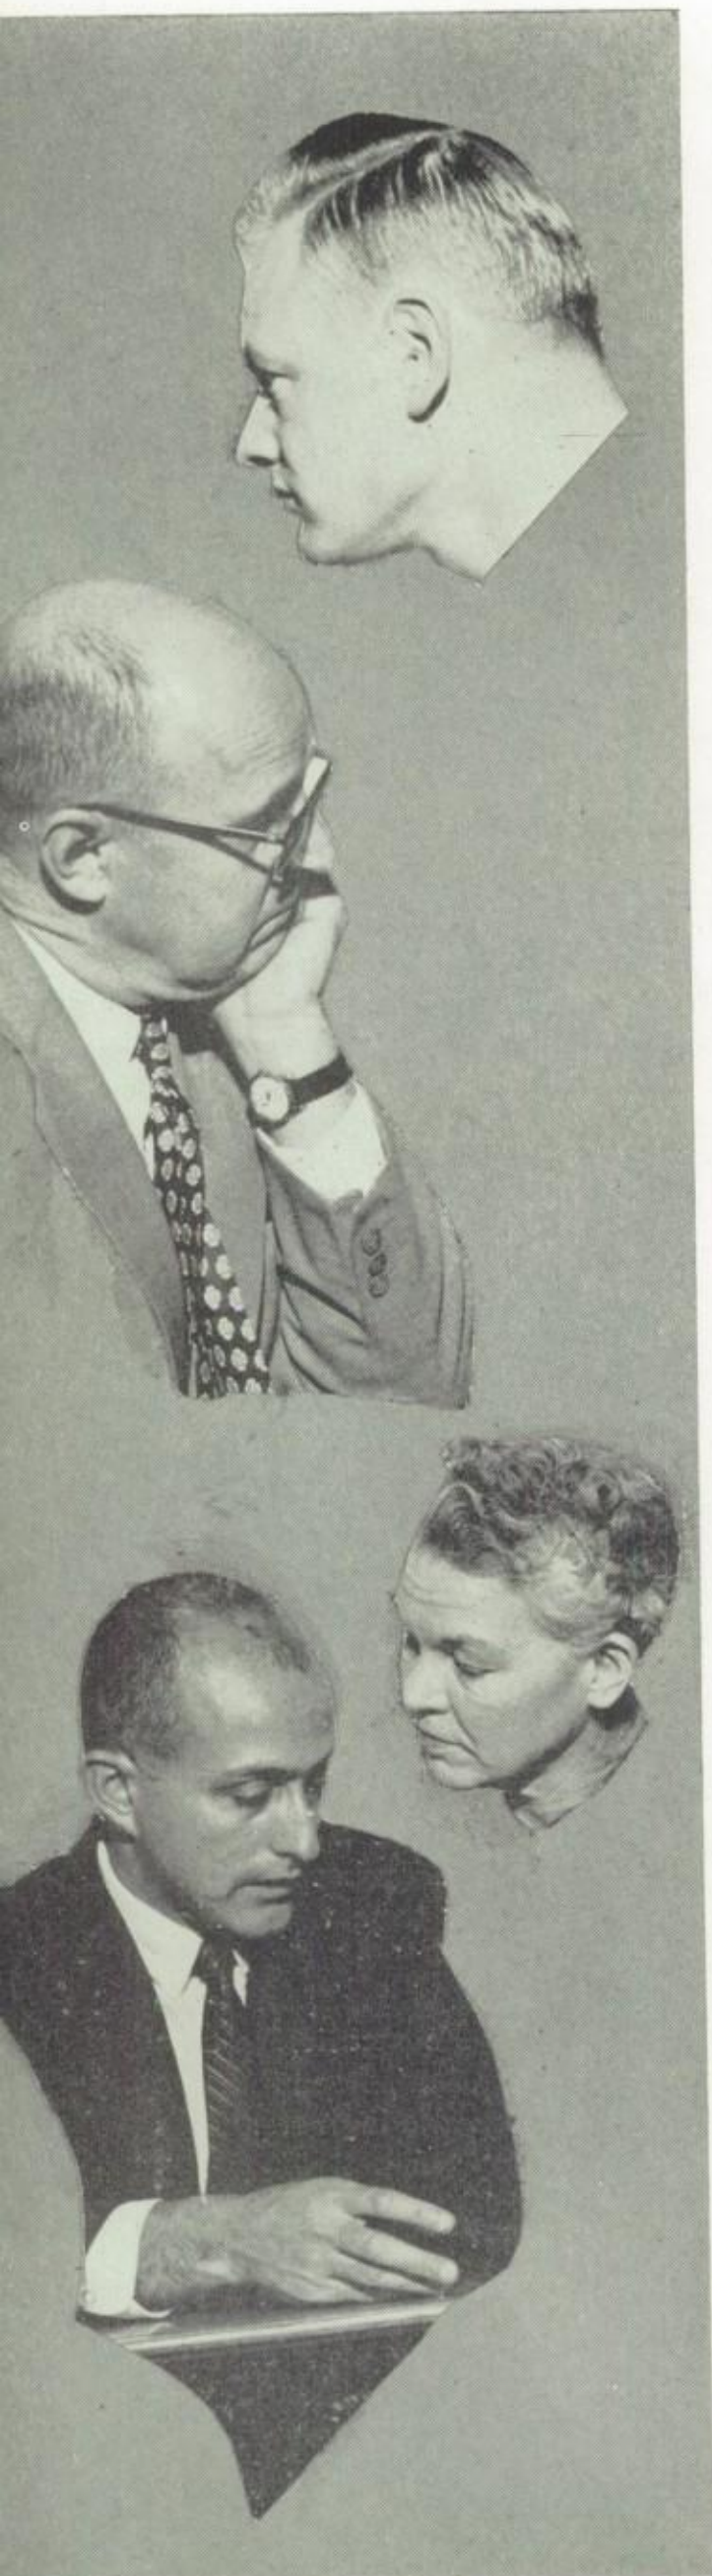

Mr. Harmon smiles happily as he recalls the events of the year 58-59.

Congratulations to all of the students who worked to make San Bernardino High School one of the best. The school year 1958-59 has been a good one. Morale and school spirit have been on a high plane. Our students have taken their share of honors and awards.

Every student can be proud of S. B. H. S. There have been many times when the staff has had the occasion to take great pride in the achievements this year. Let's hope that the future classes will live up to the traditions and high standards set for our school.

Student body officers use legislative powers

COUNCIL MEMBERS WORK FAITHFULLY

Staffed by eighteen capable students, the Student Council has indeed served SBHS well this year. All of these people were elected under the new voting system, in which a student must register in order to vote. Under the excellent leadership of Mayor Bob McKenzie, several projects and new ideas have been carried out. One major contribution of this year's legislative body has been the addition of several offices to council, including Commissioner of Welfare, Commissioner of Special Projects, Commissioner of Assemblies, Inter-Club Council President, and the non-voting office of Tyro Weekly Editor. Meetings were held all summer in order to be ready to best serve the Student Body this year.

Signals of Pep Are Flag Twirlers

Spinning red and white taffeta flags, the flag twirlers brought graceful action and moving color to sports events and pep assemblies. The girls, dressed in gay cardinal red and sable black, went with the marching band as they performed in various festivals, athletic events, and carnivals. Betsy Bell served as head flag handler.

Flag Twirlers are (bottom up) Janice Rearick, Julie Ramirez, Betsy Bell, Ruth Wallen, Sandi Lange, Sharon Holdridge

Baton Twirlers are (bottom up) Deanna Hancock, Margaret Mowery, Betty Blakely.

Batons Flash as Girls Prance

Skillful coordination is displayed by these attractive girls in their twirling for games and assemblies. Their outfits in red and black were punctuated by white boots. Head major-ette, Deanna Hancock was ably assisted by peppy sequin-outfitted charmers.

For peppy people

Vivacious Yell Leaders Support Varsity Teams

Giving their all to cheer the varsity teams on to victory, this group of girls does wonders to increase school spirit. The costumes for this year have been red pleated skirts, and attractive sweaters. Other honors were brought to SBHS by the girls when they participated in the cheerleading contest at Pepperdine.

B Cheerleaders are, Gail Lewis, Richard Gomez, Barbara Wilson, Connie Clark, Linda Williamson, and Marilyn Pratt.

Bee Cheerleading Peps Players

Having the honor of being the only pep group in which a boy participated, the B Cheerleaders have also been a great influence in school spirit this year. Wearing cute shortie skirts and red sweaters, the girls yelled on enthusiastically with Richard Gomez serving as chief balancer.

After a long march, two members of the High Steppers relax to exchange a bit of gossip.

Pert Janice Hellman is a study in seriousness as she watches the Card boys give their all for SBHS.

Pep Leaders ever-present at games

POM PON GIRLS LIVEN SPIRIT

San Bernardino High School is famous for its high-stepping pom pon girls. It is the job of these girls to create their own routines, although a few are handed down from year to year.

Prancing into the spotlight, they immediately attract attention with their brightly colored outfits and pom pons streaming. Practices are held throughout the summer to prepare for the football and basketball seasons. The group's chief is Jane Clark; the sponsor, Miss Livingston.

Card City High Steppers Show Good Form

"Halt!" "About face!" Under the stern commands of Mrs. Margaret Agretelis, SBHS's drill team took steps in the right directions, forming patterns on the football field. During half times, most notably those of Football Homecoming and Pacific-Berdoo contests, the scarlet and black uniforms left a lasting impression, formed only by hours of grueling practice. President Carmen Paz and Captain Linda Sirman led High Stepper efforts.

Drill Team Officers were (row one) Theresa Fischer, Linda Sirman, Glenna Wilhite; (row two) Helen Herrera, Carmen Paz, and Irma Lopez.

Precision, goal of snappy drill team

Key Club Strong Core of Unity

Lead by President John Reuss and sponsors Clark Jones and Forrest Keck, the Key Club of SBHS ranks as one of the best service clubs on campus. The energetic early birds met at 7:15 for breakfast to plan their services for community as well as school. Aided by the Kiwanis Club of San Bernardino, our division of Key Club International sponsored many successful service projects.

High scholastic interest as honors bestowed

Large CSF Membership Proof of Zeal

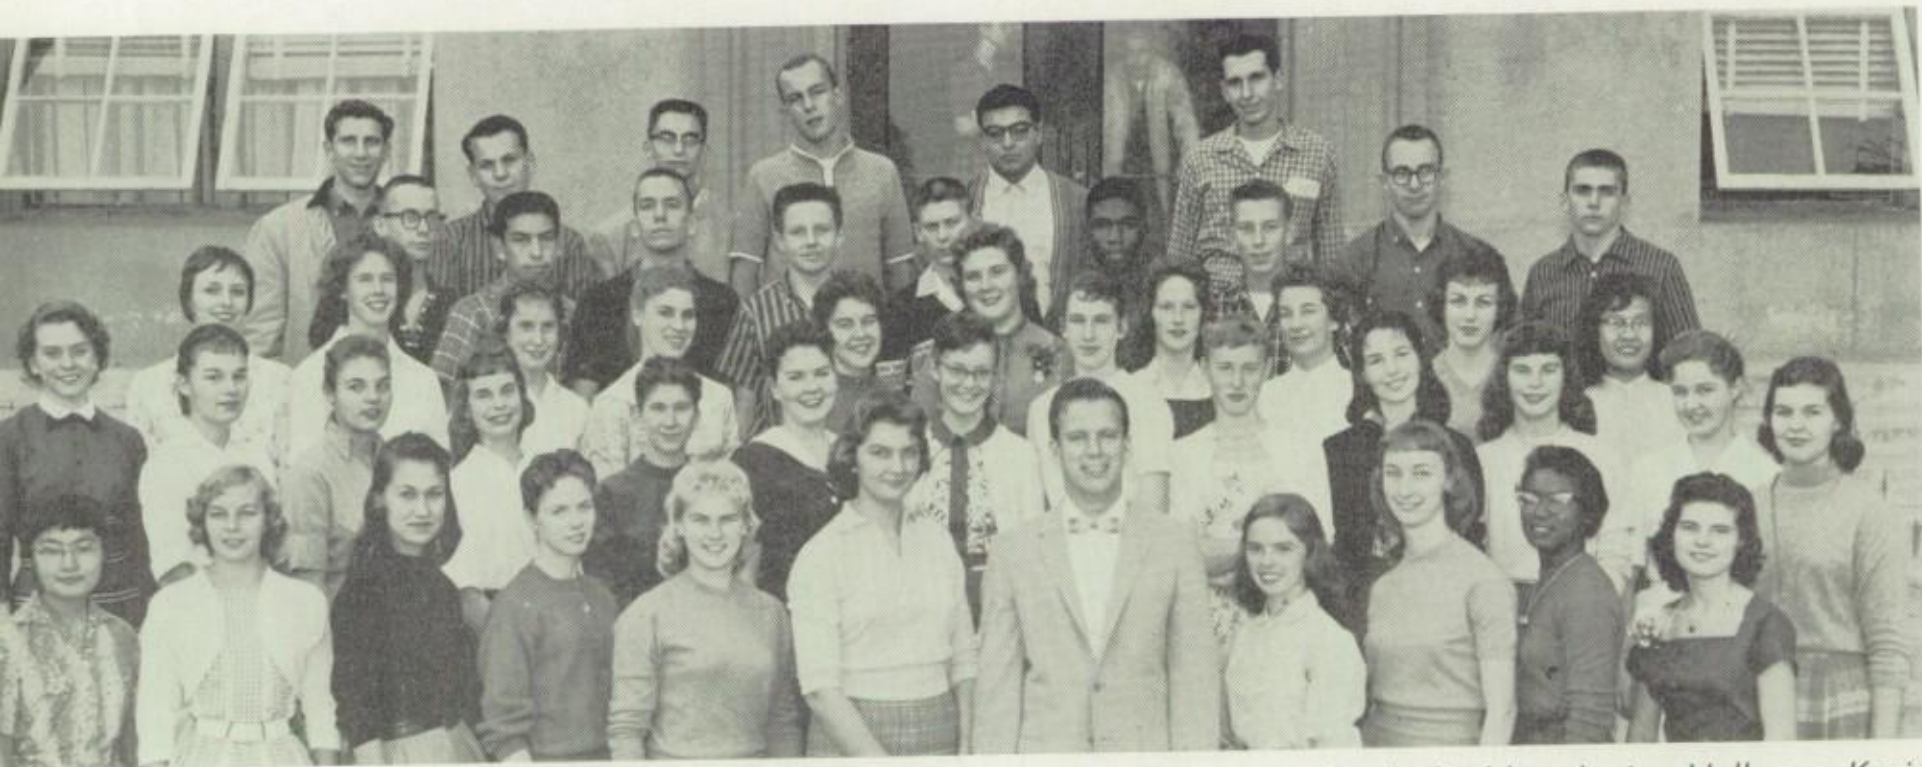

Earning top grades is one reward for time spent over homework and books and term papers, besides the satisfaction of knowing a subject.

From this year's California Scholarship Federation chapter at SBHS came twenty-five seal bearers, entitled to wear a gold cord at graduation exercises. They were seniors who had belonged to the club four semesters or more, including one in their senior year. That was the gleam of knowledge around their necks!

Requirements for membership in '59 were three "A's," one "B," no "D's" or "F's."

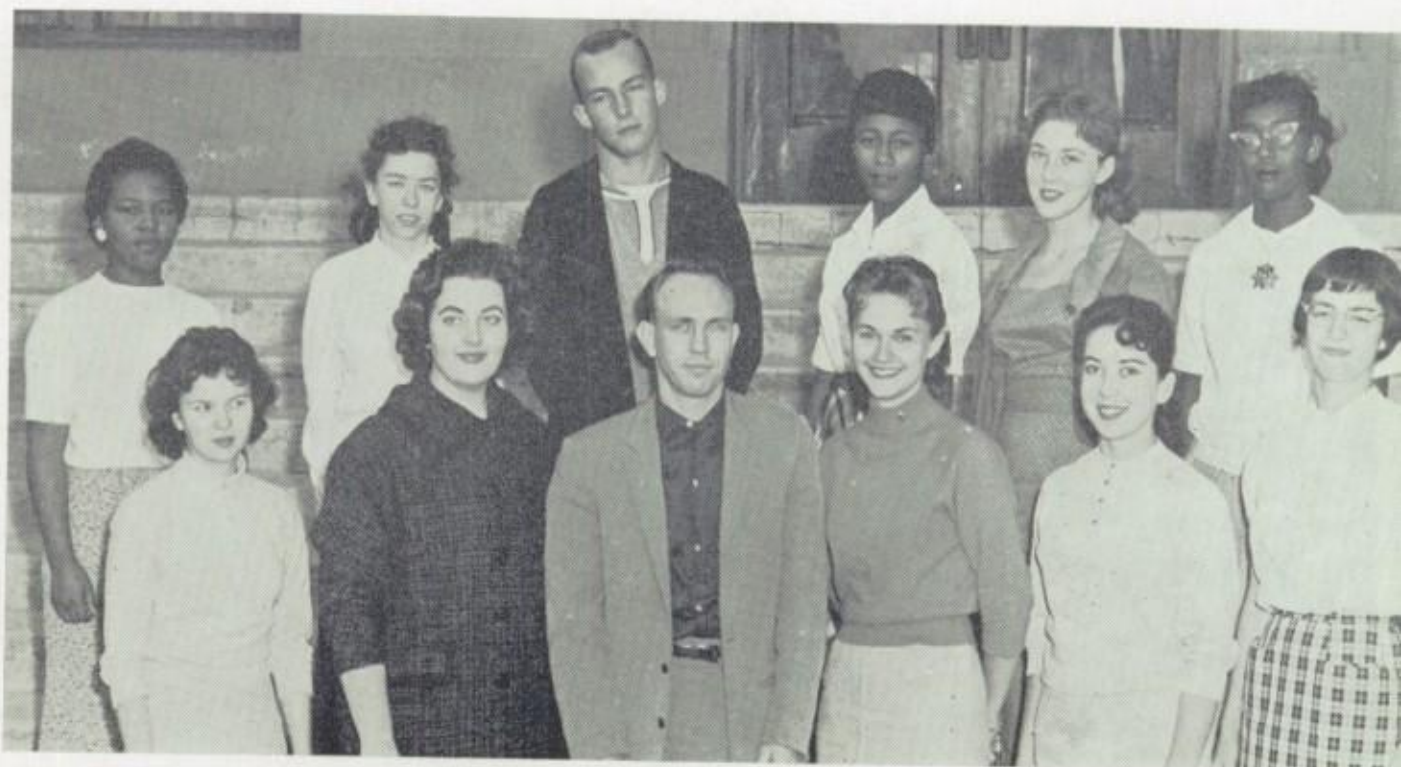

Club participation was small but enthusiastic. President Lani Goodwin managed do-nut sales and seal-bearer functions. Sponsor Mr. Kalar was a valuable aide to club organization.

CHS Members Earn Honored Grades

Second only to CSF in scholarly attainment is Cardinal Honor Society. To be eligible for membership, a person must have a B average, with no D's or F's. This group has proven that it is possible to be a good student, and have fun at the same time.

CHS members are (low one) Beth Josi, Sandra Mathews, Mr. Graetz, Janet Christopher, Judi Cooper, Roberta Woods; (row two) Vivian Ellzey, La Phonia Lee, Rex Peters, Joyce James, Shirley Sheppard, Carol DeMorst.

Clubs help to build good Cardinal citizens

Statesmen Active in School Affairs

The Junior Optimist Statesmen were led by Dan Gallardo, first semester and Scotty Lethbridge, second semester. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Charles Brown, the club has contributed much to SBHS. One of the highlights of the year for the group was the "Springtime Swing," a dance given in March.

Charm and grace, traits of fem social leaders

Sub Debs' Aims, Service and Fun

Holding meetings to discuss projects and parties of interest to all were some forty Card City girls in '59. Members were chosen on the basis of grades, citizenship, and participation in school activities.

The Sub Debs accomplished much under the leadership of Dana Sue Bruton and the advice of Miss Brownell, faculty advisor.

Charity and Cheer Mixed by Ebelles

Girls' social service club, Ebelles, does a perfect job of mixing work and fun. The carrying out of many community service projects is combined with parties and sales. Led by President Sydnee Mackie, the organization has been a real tribute to our campus improvement.

Dances, benefits, services numerous in '59

Sobobans Strictly for Service

A high scholastic average, and participation in many extra-curricular activities are only two of the requirements for membership in Sobobans. These active girls have held many activities, and also have gone to the Ice Capades, and on other excursions. Jeanne Bauer has been their leader for the year of 1958-59.

Girls Guide to Entertainment

The neat girl in the black skirt and white blouse with a big red flower politely shows you to your seat when you attend a school or civic function. She has been well trained to escort patrons to their seats with a minimum of fuss and bother. Responsible for this is the group known as Usherettes, with Evelyn Flores as president.

School government in capable hands

Co-ordinates Activities of All Campus Clubs

Every club must have a representative on Inter-club Council. Usually the President of a club serves as the representative to the council. This year the group sponsored an inter-club light bulb sale and all booths at school carnivals. Conflicts in club-planned activities are avoided, through the council's efforts. Vice Principal Harmon served as sponsor and Director of Commissioners Dave Adams was Council president.

Card City Congress Helps Govern SBHS

Helping to further the democratic aims of SBHS, and give representation to every member of the student body, is Card City Congress. The group is composed of delegates sent from each first period class, and is headed by president Rex Peters. It has accomplished many worthwhile tasks.

Groups bring distinction to Card City

Contests Keep Card Orators Busy

Awards and honors are accumulated by the droves and set on the trophy table in A-39. These shiny gold objects testify to the oral ability of these people. The club, headed by president John Reuss, also put on a very successful variety show, which brought together the best in talent of the student body and the faculty.

Athletes Give of Their Strength

Black and red sweaters mark the capable athletes of Card City. Whether the sport be football, basketball, track, swimming, wrestling, or tennis, these boys have always performed in fine style. When they wear their sweaters you can tell they're proud to represent S. B. H. S.

Youth for Christ Campus Influence

A deep awareness of spiritual things characterizes each of the people in Youth for Christ. These active young people deeply believe in the concepts of Christianity, and endeavor to practice them in everyday life. The group holds informal Friday night meetings which consist of songs, special music, and guest speakers. At the helm of the club has been Alice Miller in 1959.

Specialized clubs contribute to campus

Spanish Students Further Knowledge

Los Cardinales is a group which has an intense interest in Spanish-speaking countries and their customs and language. The club is based on the foundation of thought that only understanding and sympathetic feeling for our foreign neighbors can lead to world understanding and peace. The group has sponsored many activities on campus, and helped bring to SBHS the all-school language contest trophy.

Card Crew Active and Imaginative

The sets and lighting you see at the school plays are not just accidents, they are the results of the careful planning and hard work of the Cardinal Crew. This is the stagecraft club, and is sponsored by Mr. Fallert. These energetic and imaginative students have also held sales and various other projects.

Club Combines Science and Fun

A realization of the wonders of nature and the dramatic uses to which these things may be put, sparks the efforts of these biology club members. President Howard Waldman and sponsor Mr. Ash have seen the club through its first year at Card City. The group has had several field trips to observe scientific phenomena.

Students explore various careers early

Chislars Take Pride in Work

Chislars is a group composed of boys interested in the field of wood work as a vocation. Each of these boys takes great pride in doing imaginative and servicable work. Headed by President Loren White, the group has been of value to campus goings on.

Teaching in the future will be (row one) Judi Cooper, Barbara Wilson, Mr. Ballou, Karin Hesse, Sharon Rudd, Betty Sauer, Loretta Lourmex; (row two) Carole Anger, Sharon Meyer, Judi Hoisington, Sandra Mathews, Roberta Woods, Nancy Owen, Chuck Burton, Sandee Robbins.

Future Teachers Sample Chosen Field

A club which provides an opportunity for young people interested in teaching to get a real taste of what the profession is like is Future Teachers of America. Its members have been on many field trips during the year, serving as assistant teachers in the City's Schools.

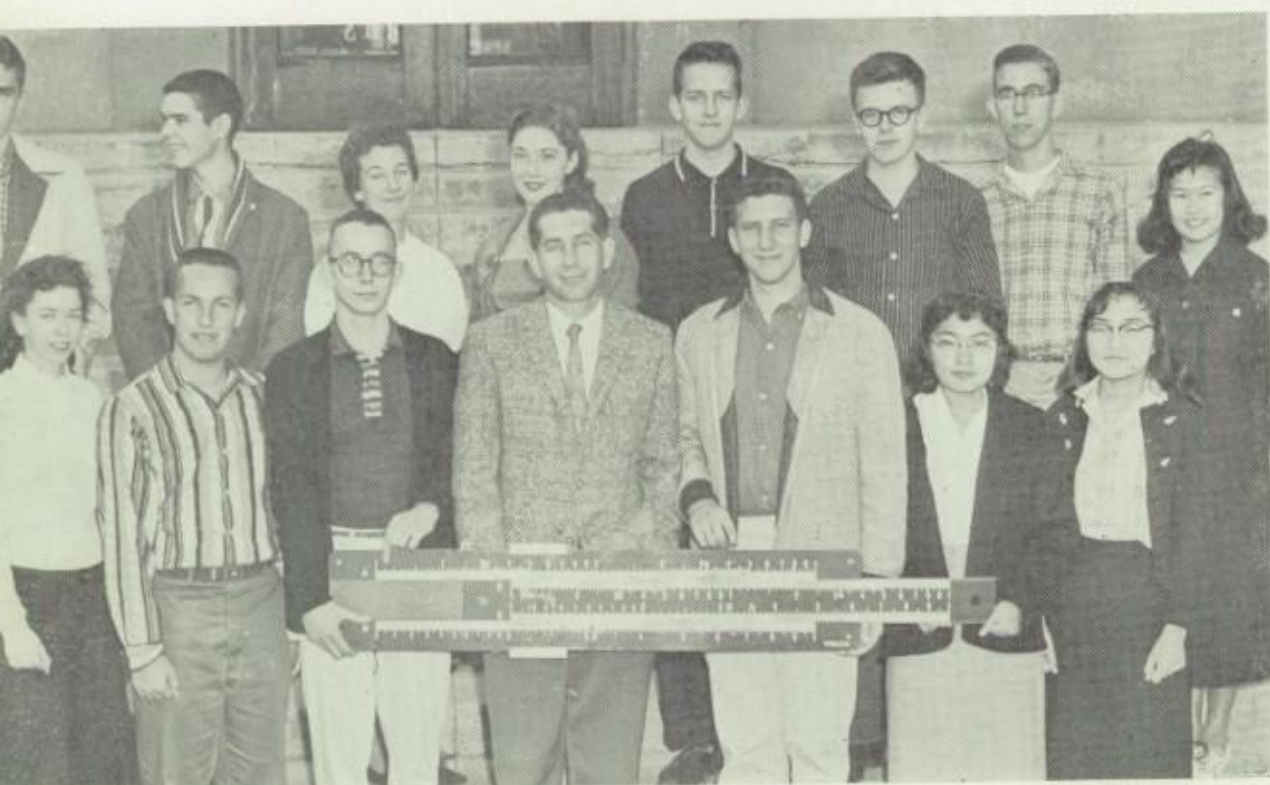

Junior Red Cross Girls Seek Welfare of Others

A lively interest in other people characterizes the members of Junior Red Cross. This group has performed many service projects, and under the capable leadership of president Susan Ganty, has had a very successful year. There are many charity organizations in San Bernardino which are very thankful to the club for its excellent work.

Personal interests provide fields of conquest

Der Schlidenrulers Glorify Math

Armed with a slide rule and an extra large concept of mathematics, these students slide through the most difficult math courses with the greatest of ease. A group which prides itself on the ability of each of its members to find out an answer to the most complicated math problems is Der Schlidenrulers, commonly known as the math club. With Art Groos at the helm of the slide rule, the group has helped each member to increase his knowledge in the field.

Female Athletes Have Health And Vitality

Vivid, healthy girls compose the membership of GAA. Many different sports are offered in the program, and these active girls take advantage of all of them. In addition to fun and friendship, each girl works for her school letter. President this year was Linda Hill. These girls prove their intense interest by staying an extra hour after school.

Actors Unite in Thespian Society

The smell of grease paint and the sound of the words, "On stage, everybody, curtain going up!" excites something in these people. Under the able direction of Mr. David Van Buskirk, the group has given us Out of the Frying Pan, and Rebel Without a Cause. Linda Evans presided at sundry potluck dinners throughout the year.

Imaginative people shape own destinies

Campus Brains Exercise Intellects

An interest in the intellectual things around San Bernardino and Card City characterizes each member of the Creative Arts Club. These young people have a deep appreciation for good art, music, and literature. With Kathy Abe as president and Mr. Pierson as sponsor, the group has had a very successful year.

Sophs, Juniors, Seniors Welcomed at Hi-Tri

Fun, friendship, and service are the aims of a vivacious group of girls known as Hi-Tri. The club is sponsored jointly by the school and YWCA. The hard-working cabinet pictured here is responsible for many of the activities of the club, such as the "Sweethearts' Ball," other dances, and fashion shows. Sandy Webster was president. Any Card girl may belong; membership numbered over one-hundred in '59.

Managing the Student Loan were Agnes Mullins, John Reuss, and Keith Woodstra.

Loan Sharks and Money-hungry Cards

Preventing robberies and suicides is one possible effect of SBHS's Student Loan system, whereby students may borrow sums of money at small interest. Applications, filled out and dropped into a box at the Student Store, were reviewed by John Reuss and his board of helpmates.

Quill and Scroll Honors Journalists

Tyro Weekly and Tyro Annual staff members who are outstanding belong to the Card City chapter of Quill and Scroll, international in scope and exclusive in membership. The club has sponsored a dance for the first time this year, "Tyro Twirl," where the student-body received its annuals early. Linda Koch was the president.

Quill and Scroll members were (row one) Charlotte Nolen, Judith Johnson, Jim Kitchen, Martie Mullins, Mr. Feldman, Linda Koch, Donna Kolb, Gail Curran; (row two) Bert Leaverton, Agnes Mullins, Rachel Alvarez, Mickey Gulley, Gordon Paravano, Louis Chmielewski, Jerry Morris, Ray Diard.

B. Antrobus, Clifford Boeving, Tom Duncanson, Jimmie Lara, Bob Harmston, Ray Blake, Kenny Jones.

Hard work contributes to name of Cards

Honored Band Members

Each of the people pictured has earned a letter by active participation in the band. Marching with the band through all types of events, these persistent people, having excelled in both effort and music, are entitled to the letter they wear.

Clarity, Sharpness in Photos, Club's Goal

A brilliant flash of light and the sound of a camera shutter closing is music to the ears of these camera fans. Advisor Mr. Threatt and president Mickey Gulley led the Photography Club in planning field trips and selling Christmas calendars for the Epilepsy Fund. The shutter-bangers also produced a Keystone-cop type movie and many of the pictures that appear in the Tyro Annual and Weekly.

Music Makers Add Color to Games

A flash of color, the gleam of golden horns against the sun, the roll of the drum, and blaring of the trumpets tell spectators at a game that the band is marching onto the field. Led by drum major Abe Saens, the band contributes greatly to school spirit at the games.

Music adds harmony to Cards' life

Music on a more serious basis is supplied by the SBHS orchestra, also under the direction of Mr. Allan C. U'Ren. These young people have received an invaluable education in the better types of music through participation in the orchestra. The group has proven itself time and time again, as they perform the best works of art with confidence and clarity.

Singers Contribute to Card City atmosphere

From the Throats of the Fifty-niners—Melody

Marching down the aisles of the auditorium to the pulsating lyrics of "Angels From the Realms of Glory," the Card City combined choirs make one of their major appearances of the year in the Christmas program.

Hard work and anticipation go into the planning of each performance given by the group. Mr. Hauschildt and his choir can often be heard going through their paces upstairs in the A building.

Sideliners Roar Approval, Support Teams

Cheering our sports squads on to victory through organized mayhem has been the function of the SBHS Sideliners. Led by president Janice Hellman with sponsor Bill Threatt, all Card citizens who paid their dues had reserved seats at games and produced enormous quantities of school spirit.

Clubs organize good times for school

Unique Inter-school Club Plans Fun

Card City's only joint activity with Pacific is the Gangplank group, which functions throughout both the school year and summer. Some of their plans included the "Basketball Prom" and a twice-weekly activity night for teenagers at Perris Hill Park. President of the SBHS group was Bill Garrett.

All students members of these two clubs

GIRLS LEAGUE

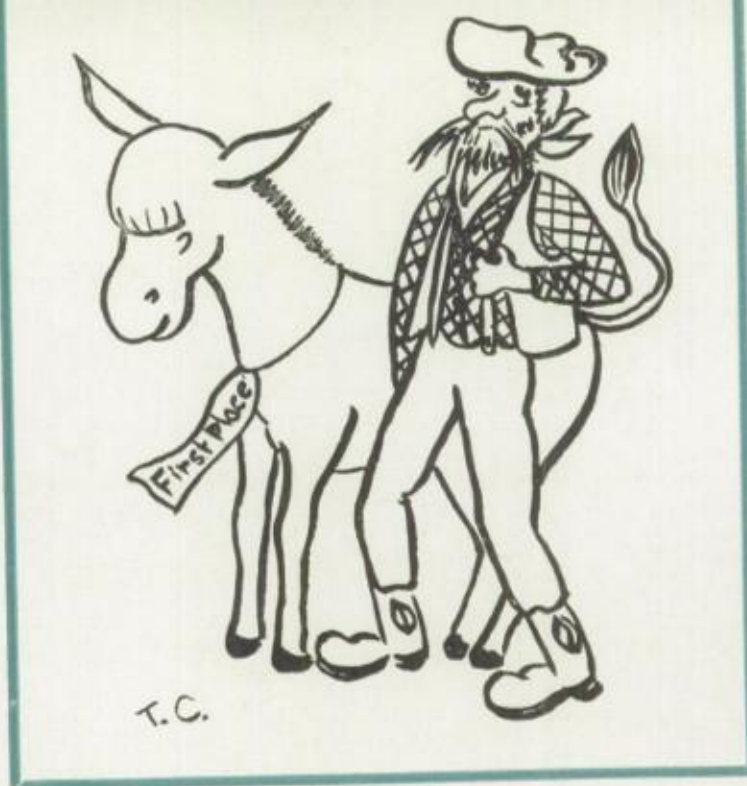

An organization that represents the girls of Card City is Girls League. The cabinet represents the club, and carries out many interesting projects, such as the big and little sister program at the beginning of the year.

BOYS FORUM

The male counterpart of Girls League, Boys Forum, represents the boys of Cardinal City. Headed by president Dan Gallardo, this organization has contributed much to SBHS.

Boys Forum officers are Dan Gallardo, Bill Coleman, Richard Gomez, Bill Zellman.

We know not whether death be good,
But life at least it will not be;
Men will stand saddening as we stood,
Watch the same fields and skies as we
And the same sea.

— Swinburne
